KAMALA HARRIS PICKS MINNESOTA GUV TIM WALZ AS RUNNING MATE

The US Vice President has also secured the presidential nomination from the Democratic Party, the first woman of colour to do so

NOMINATION WITH EYE ON SWING STATES

"I'm all in," said Walz, 60, accepting the Harris' nomination for V-P. A military veteran, former public school teacher and six-term congressman, Walz is now serving the sixth year of his eight-year stint as governor of the midwestern US state. Harris expects Walz, a popular leader known for his middle-path approach, will help her win the swing states that can decide the poll outcome

Nobel face to heal riot-torn nation

- Muhammad Yunus to be the chief advisor of the interim govt
- At least 100 people killed in violence after Hasina fled the country
- Worry over the safety of Indians in Bangladesh

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

NOBEL laureate Muhammad Yunus will lead the interim government of Bangladesh as chief advisor. The decision was taken at a late-night meeting between the key coordinators of the students movement and Bangladesh President Mohammed Shahabuddin. The chiefs of three armed forces and two Dhaka University professors were also present at the meeting held at Bangabhaban (presidential palace) to discuss the current situation and the shape of the interim government.

Earlier in the day, Shahabuddin dissolved Parliament paving the way for an interim government to be formed. The name of Yunus, 84, who is currently in Paris, was proposed by the students. In a video posted on social media on Tuesday, Nahid Islam, one of the coordinators of the students movement, said they want a government headed by Yunus. "No government other than the one proposed by the students will be accepted... no military government, or one backed by the military... will be accepted," he said in the video message.

Yunus, a widely respected microfinance pioneer who is credited with lifting millions out of poverty, has agreed to take up the responsibility. "If action is needed in Bangladesh, for my country and for the courage of my people, then I will take it," AFP quoted him as saying.

Meanwhile, violence continued in Bangladesh a day after the country's longest-serving prime minister Sheikh Hasina resigned and fled to India following protests demanding her ouster. According to report, at least 100 people have been killed since the Monday mayhem, taking the total toll since mid-July to 440. A number of temples, households, and businesses were vandalised, women assaulted, and two Hindu leaders of Hasina's Awami League party were killed, PTI reported quoting sources.

In Delhi, government sources said Hasina will be allowed to stay in India "as long as she wants". Officials said all Indian students studying in Bangladesh have returned, but there is concern about the safety of officials attached with the Indian diplomatic missions there. P9,12

Concerned over B'desh law & order; Hasina sought to fly in for a short time: Govt

PREETHA NAIR AND RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

AMID continuing political uncertainty in Bangladesh, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said on Tuesday that the situation is still evolving and the government is in close and continuous touch with the Indian community through diplomatic missions. He said the government remains deeply concerned about the law and order situation there.

In suo moto statements in Parliament, Jaishankar said former prime minister Sheikh Hasina had on Monday sought approval to 'come for the moment to India' at a very short notice.

"On August 5, demonstrators converged in Dhaka despite the curfew. Our understanding is that after a meeting with leaders of the security establishment, prime minister Sheikh Hasina apparently made the decision to resign. At very short notice, she requested approval to come for the moment to India. We simultaneously received a request for flight clearance from the Bangladesh authorities. She arrived yesterday evening in Delhi," he said.

He added that the government is in regular touch with the authorities in Dhaka. "I seek the understanding and support of the House in regard to sensitive issues regarding an important neighbour on which there has always been a strong national consensus."

The bulk of the 9,000-odd Indian students in Bangladesh returned home last month.

"In addition to the High Commission in Dhaka, we have Assistant High Commissions in Chittagong, Rajshahi, Khulna and Sylhet. It is our expectation that the host government will provide the required security protection for these establishments." Jaishankar said the government is keeping a close tab on the situation with respect to the minorities there. "There are reports of initiatives by various groups and organisations to ensure their protection and well-being. We welcome that," he said.

Indexation benefits for property back

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

FACING backlash from investors and property owners, the Centre has decided to give a major relief to real estate investors by allowing them to opt for either a 12.5% long-term capital gains tax rate without indexation or a 20% rate with indexation for property purchased before July 23, 2024.

The respite has been given only to resident individuals and Hindu Undivided Families. For non-resident individuals, companies, partnership firms, and LLPs, the indexation benefit won't be available.

This change has been included in the amendment to the Finance Bill 2024. "In the case of transfer of a long-term capital asset, being land or building or both, by an individual or Hindu Undivided Family (HuF), which is acquired before the 23rd day of July, 2024, the taxpayer can compute his taxes under the new scheme [@12.5% without indexation] and old scheme [@20% with indexation] and pay such tax which is lower of the two," it says.

In her Budget speech, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman had said that the tax on LTCG was cut to 12.5% without indexation from 20% with indexation. That meant the indexation would not be available on real estate transactions for assets bought after 2001.

2023: Face of protests; 2024: Face of Indian sport

IN 2023, Vinesh Phogat wanted to throw all her medals into the Ganges and walk away for good. The public face of a protest against one of India's biggest politician-turned-sporting administrators — Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh — for over the last 18 months, Phogat has now completed the set. Asian Games? Tick. Worlds? Tick. Olympics? Tick.

It's not for nothing that sports stories evoke a strange feeling of joy.

Win or lose, it's always beautiful. It can be cathartic too. This story goes beyond the triumph of an underdog. Considering the last one and a half years of turmoil, this is a story that can be exhibited at the Louvre. For a wrestler who decided to shift weight categories from 53kg to 50kg, this victory owes a lot to her belief.

It started in the first bout itself, when she faced Japan's Yui Susaki, a bout where winning was not even considered

Vinesh Phogat could become the first Indian woman to win Oly gold | PTI

(coming into the tournament, the Japanese had an 82-0 streak and had never been beaten by a non-Japanese). She had won gold in Tokyo without losing a point.

To put the story into context, this is like India beating West Indies in 1983. Vinesh wrote a eulogy to herself, and set her own narrative on the mat at the Champs de Mars arena. It is more than just poetic that the face of protests against alleged sexual harassment (the case is ongoing) is now the face of Indian sports.

Just one year ago, she was out on the streets, being manhandled. She was broken. She missed out on international competitions for almost the whole of last year. Scarred and bruised mentally, she started to pick up the pieces of whatever was left of her career. On Tuesday, the wrestling hall was stunned to silence. They had come to see Susaki win. The Japanese camp looked dazed. Susaki was looking around the hall, trying to digest a nightmare. For Vinesh, this is what she had been waiting for. A chance. And she capitalised.

When she enters the hall for the final on Wednesday, she will begin a new chapter. This is her moment and she will not let this go. She's now six minutes away from becoming India's first woman to strike Olympic gold.

In Hindu mythology, Ganges has cleansing powers. She will now hope that her statement wins on Tuesday — and with it, an assured silver — has those same kind of restorative benefits to a sport suffering from a crisis. PT7

Governor summons Abraham, seeks clarification on plea

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

GOVERNOR Thaawarchand Gehlot summoned anti-corruption activist TJ Abraham to Raj Bhavan on Tuesday and sought a clarification on his petition in view of the state's Council of Ministers' advice to withdraw the show-cause notice issued to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah in the alleged MUDA site allotment scam.

The show-cause notice was issued based on the petition by Abraham to the governor, seeking permission to prosecute Siddaramaiah in the alleged scam. The Council of Ministers had advised the governor to withdraw the notice issued to the CM and reject Abraham's petition. Abraham told TNIE that he met the governor and gave all clarifications.

Meanwhile, sources in the state government said that they did not receive any notice or communication from Raj Bhavan after the governor returned to Bengaluru from New Delhi on Monday night.

Abraham visited MUDA office in Mysuru on Monday and held discussions with its commissioner AN Raghunandan on the allotment of sites in Mysuru.

Abraham said, "The Council of Ministers decided to appeal to the governor to withdraw the show-cause notice issued to Siddaramaiah. Without considering its merits, the government decided that my petition does not hold water. I did not produce any secondary documents supporting my petition. I went to Raj Bhavan on Tuesday and gave all the clarifications," he said.

On Siddaramaiah and his cabinet ministers calling him a blackmailer, Abraham said, "When I filed a petition against the then chief minister BS Yediyurappa in a land case, Siddaramaiah appreciated it in the House. When I filed a complaint against the then chief minister Jagadish Shettar to the governor, the Congress leaders did not have any problem. But now, they are calling me a blackmailer. I have made my position clear to the governor."

All businesses in city to remain open till 1 am

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a move aimed at improving trade and commerce, shops and other business establishments in the city will be allowed to remain open till 1 am from now on. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah announced this in his budget speech in February and the Urban Development Department issued an order on July 29.

The order applies for business establishments in BBMP limits only. This decision will help the state government, which has been looking at various options, to improve its revenue.

Bruhat Bangalore Hotels' Association (BBHA), which has been demanding that hotels and restaurants in the city be allowed to operate round-the-clock, has welcomed the government's decision.

President of BBHA PC Rao said, "Extending the business hours to 1 am is a welcome move. This will benefit the people of Bengaluru in a big way. The decision will also lead to creation of more jobs. All bars and restaurants were allowed to remain open till 1 am only in commissionerate limits. But with this order, all bars and restaurants can be open till 1 am across BBMP limits."

However, some netizens opposed the decision stating that it will disturb peace and harmony in the city.

Hydro met data on sensitive zones not taken seriously: Expert

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE worst-ever landslides so far in Kerala on July 30, which killed more than 221 people with more than 200 still missing, after flattening at least three villages, are a "result of multiple factors including geological, anthropogenic, change in land pattern and negligence on the part of local authorities and people", said former director, Geological Survey of India (GSI) and National Institute of Rock Mechanics (NIRM) Dr Pramod Chandra Nawani.

"This region is extremely ecologically sensitive and has experienced calamities earlier also, but not of this scale. It should be cleared of human habitation to prevent future disasters, which are bound to happen because of the nature, age of the rock mass, geological activity and heavy rainfall due to the changed weather conditions," cautioned the noted geologist and rock mechanics expert.

"There are mainly two kinds of rocks in Wayanad -- gneiss and schist. They are of Precambrian origin and ecologically very sensitive. Because of the intensive weathering of these older rocks on the gentle slopes, the bedrock is overlain by a thick layer of 20-25 metres of lateritic soil. Unlike the Himalayas, here the slopes are not steep, because of which they are perceived to be safe and there is a lot of human activity. The main problem of gentle slopes is that the overlying soil and highly weathered rocks lose their shear strength and become cohesion less and the water-charged interface between lateritic soil and bedrock begins to move slowly. This is creep movement, which is not visible to the naked eye. It plays havoc when the area gets incessant heavy rain," said Nawani.

Finally, men, machinery to move into Ejipura

Work on flyover abandoned after 40% of project completed, to resume from Aug 12

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

The work on the Ejipura Flyover was abandoned by the previous contractor due to a delay in payments from BBMP | MOHAMMED YACOOB

AFTER much delay, the Rs 307.94-crore Ejipura Flyover project is finally set to get going with the construction agency — BSCPL Infrastructure Ltd — making preparations to restart the abandoned works.

According to the agency's Launching Engineer Vishwanath Tarangi, the 2.5-km flyover, which starts at Sony World Junction and ends at Kendriya Sadan, will ease traffic on the busy Koramangala area, facilitating smooth flow of vehicles from the South-East of the city.

"We have got a power-packed hydraulic machine to lift materials over 1,200 tonnes. These machines were brought from Mumbai and metal bearings and threads for support were obtained from Kolkata. These machines are expensive and they are a must for installation work. By the end of the month, a few more machines will arrive. About 300 workers will be involved in the process. From August 12, we will begin the works," said Vishwanath.

BBMP (Project Division) Superintendent Engineer Hemalatha and Executive Engineer Yogesh went to Kolkata along with the executives of the infrastructure firm to check the metal bearings.

The official from the agency added that for each segment measuring 3x17 metres, 6.5 tonnes of steel has to be added along with concrete. After 11 segments, there are pillars and grouting will be done."The work is very challenging as earlier another has abandoned the work. If we get continuous support from BBMP officials, we will be able to complete the task in a year or 18 months," said Tarangi.

As per engineers at the site, just to set up a new plant for making segments, transportation and purchase of machinery, Rs 30 crore is being spent.

Commenting on the development, Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy, who is the local MLA, said he has asked the corporation commissioner to extend support and also release bills accordingly and ensure that the project is completed at the earliest as it will benefit lakhs of motorists.

A BBMP official said the project was started in 2017. However, due to a delay in payments from BBMP, SIMPLEX, the agency that was executing the project, abandoned the project mid-way. "When the project was abandoned, it was about 40 per cent complete. Had the BBMP continued the contract and released the payment, by now there would have been vehicle movement on the flyover."

Lalbagh flower show from tomorrow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AS part of the 77th Independence Day, the 12-day Lalbagh flower show will commence from August 8 to 19. This year, the show is being created at a cost of Rs 2.9 crore. Horticulture Department Secretary Dr Shamla Iqbal said on Tuesday that the 216th fruit and flower show will highlight the life of the architect of the constitution, Dr BR Ambedkar. Six lakh flowers are being used to create a replica of the parliament building.

"As many as 3.4 lakh Dutch roses and chrysanthemums will be used for the installation depicting the birthplace of Dr Ambedkar and 3.4 lakh flowers will be used to create Chaitya Bhoomi, his resting place," she said. As many as 85 varieties of flowers have arrived at the glass house from home and abroad. This year, 15 themes related to Ambedkar will be depicted.

Consumer panel orders bank to pay ₹1.7L to student

YATHIRAJU @Bengaluru

BANK of Baroda has been ordered to pay a compensation of Rs 1.70 lakh to a student pursuing MS in Mechanical Engineering and Management in Hamburg University, Germany, for its failure to release the second instalment of his education loan.

The complainant, Preetham JB, a resident of Nelamangala in Bengaluru Rural district, fought his case against the bank before the Karnataka State Consumer Disputes Redressal Commission without any legal assistance.

Modifying the order passed by the district consumer disputes redressal commission and partly allowing the appeal by the bank, the state commission, comprising judicial member KB Sangannavar and member Divyashree M, directed the bank to pay Rs 1.50 lakh to Preetham as damages for causing physical and mental agony and Rs 20,000 as litigation cost.

Preetham joined Hamburg University of Technology in 2017 and approached the bank for an education loan of Rs 18 lakh. He mortgaged his parents' immovable property worth Rs 42.95 lakh for the loan. Accordingly, the bank sanctioned Rs 14 lakh on November 29, 2017. The bank called his father to the office of the sub-registrar to get the property intended to be secured for the loan to be registered. However, the bank officials later insisted that Preetham should execute and sign documents in their presence.

He came to India by spending Rs 40,000 on his air ticket and the bank released Rs 6.24 lakh. When he approached the bank for the remaining amount, it refused to do so. Since he was in need of money, his father sourced Rs 9 lakh from private lenders for higher interest.

The bank contended that it released Rs 6.24 lakh of the Rs 14 lakh loan sanctioned and when the complainant made his own arrangement for Rs 9 lakh to pursue his studies and had completed the course, the question of releasing the remaining loan amount did not arise at all.

B'LURU RPO ISSUES 5.18 LAKH PASSPORTS FROM JAN TO JULY

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE Regional Passport Office (RPO) here has created a record by issuing 5.18 lakh passports from January to July, according to data released by RPO.

During the same period in 2023, it issued 3.87 lakh passports, and 3.12 lakh in 2022. Of the 5.18 lakh passports, 14 were issued to transgenders. Besides, various certificates were issued to 18,428 people.

Regional Passport Officer K Krishna said, "The number of people going abroad, especially students, has increased. By this year-end, we would touch an all-time record in issuing passports for a single calendar year."

The RPO issued 8,49,646 passports in 2023 and is set to exceed this figure this year, he said. Meanwhile, the RPO issued a passport to a woman in a single day to help her go to Germany, where her son is under treatment after a drowning incident.

S Manjula from Mysuru got her passport on Tuesday. Her son Mohan Manjunath, who is studying in Berlin, is in ICU now.

"We received an email from the German Embassy in Berlin, asking us to expedite the passport process for the mother of an Indian student. We accorded it top priority and handed over the passport to the woman on Tuesday," Krishna said.

The family from Mysuru rushed to Hubballi initially to get the passport as the waiting time was less there. "As soon as we were alerted by the embassy, we contacted the family members and urged them to come to Bengaluru. The woman reached here Tuesday morning and submitted her documents and we issued the passport immediately," he said.

Indian Bank to mark 118th Foundation Day

Bengaluru: Indian Bank, established in 1907 as Swadeshi Bank, will celebrate its 118th Foundation Day on August 15. The total business of the bank crossed Rs 12.20 lakh crore (US$150 billion) as of June 30, 2024, and net profit rose by 41% year-on-year to Rs 2,403 core in June 2024 from Rs 1,709 crore in June 2023, according to a release from the bank. To mark its Foundation Day, Indian Bank launched a special deposit campaign -- Campaign 118 -- to boost the deposit growth. Indian Bank Executive Director Mahesh Kumar Bajaj will visit Bengaluru to motivate the staff, the release added. ENS

Indira Canteens will now take digital orders

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

TECHNOLOGICAL interventions in IT hub Bengaluru have enabled the revival of Indira Canteens, which will now take orders just as it's done in private restaurants and food courts -- on digital screens which will be monitored at the head office. However, this idea has not gone down well with citizens and activists, with some even terming it another scam in the making.

While Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) claims that of 169 Indira Canteens (IC), 160 are functioning, citizens and activists say the ground reality is different. They point out that many canteens, including those in Nagarbhavi, Bannerghatta Road, Queen's Road, Magadi Road and Jayanagar 7th Block, are locked.

A senior BBMP official told TNIE that tenders will soon be called to digitise the setup in ICs. "There are reports that ICs are not functioning. It could be because of contractor problems, canteen problems, staff issues, few or even missing meals. We need to know what customers think and what is the problem. So we are working on introducing digital screens in ICs, where customers will place orders and they will be noted on the screens. These screens will be linked to the head office and orders will be monitored live. Through this, we will get to know which ones are functioning, where the demand is high, what are the complaints and what citizens feel. Tenders for this will soon be called and BBMP's IT wing is preparing the details," said an official from the BBMP health section.

BBMP officials said digital screen trials were done in 15 Rajarajeshwari Nagar zone ICs and said there was positive feedback. The trials were done free of cost.

But citizens and activists are not convinced. "The problem with ICs is food quality, the contractors and canteen locations. Instead of investing on quality and hygiene, BBMP is turning to technology. When BBMP knows contractors and agencies are a problem, they should give catering orders to local cooks and groups. This will also ensure local employment," said Tara Krishnaswamy, from Citizens for Bengaluru.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You haven't always had life your own way, but the boot is now on the other foot: some people may well get away with taking advantage of you, but not for long. However, all things considered, you may be wise to give way gracefully; your natural charm has not deserted you.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Venus, the planet which rules your emotions, may be in a supportive relationship to your sign, but the fact that it is making so many helpful aspects to other planets, must mean that your social and romantic life is going through a lively and stimulating phase.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The strongest planet in your solar chart is now the Moon, so you must expect to feel just that much more emotional than usual. However, you will soon be weeping tears of joy rather than sorrow. In fact, those of you favoured most are the carefree and young-at-heart.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
It's difficult to make forecasts for Cancerians at the moment, mainly because the planetary picture is so complicated. However, we can say that today you'll be in one of your periodic secretive moods, if possible, hiding yourself away from the public gaze.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
The past few weeks have seen so much financial uncertainty that it's hard to believe you're heading for a smoother ride. If important discussions are now in progress, then don't force the pace; other people require more time to make up their minds.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Being aware of others' needs is natural to you, and your selfless qualities can only do your reputation good at work. However, you must try to make partners and colleagues aware of their own responsibilities. It is time that they started playing their full part in the proceedings.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Underneath your tender and gracious exterior, you can be a tough cookie. Now that the aggressive planet Mars is giving you such backing, you will be able to steamroller colleagues into accepting your wishes. Family members should be the first to bend to your will.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is a danger of taking on too much at any one time. Certainly, friends will be on hand to back you up, but for the next few weeks you must watch your tendency to go behind people's backs. It is much better to come out and be totally straight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Mercury and Venus are the two planets signifying your social contacts at the moment. The fact that they are in mysterious and creative sections of your horoscope, suggests that all in this department is not as it seems, but the answers may not be available for another couple of weeks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You must try to realise that although change is difficult, it is no easier to stay the same. Indeed, in the long run, if you cut loose now, you will shed a number of troublesome burdens. The great thing about the astrological universe is the way in which you can attract welcome opportunities just by freeing up extra space.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Deep down you know that certain aspects of your professional life must alter, and that your worldly ambitions must be called into question. Inevitably, friends will remind you of such stark realities, and while you may be slightly irritated, really you should be grateful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may have been expected to pay out more than you think is reasonable, but if you question your bills and debts, you may discover that you have indeed been overcharged. Home affairs must dominate your financial attention today, and you'd like it if others paid their way.

Answer: The car salesman's aggressive approach — DROVE HER AWAY

A 13-year-old girl from Belagavi district was found murdered at her uncle's house at Jokatte in Mangaluru on Tuesday. Police said the victim had come to her uncle Hanumantha's house four days ago. On Tuesday, she was alone at home. At 10.30 am, the girl's mother called her neighbour and asked them to hand over the phone to her daughter. When the neighbour went to her house, the girl was found dead with a cloth fastened to her neck

MAN FILES PLAINTS WITH RIGHTS PANEL, BLACKMAILS COPS

He accuses police of detaining suspects illegally, demands money to hush up matter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A 35-year-old man, who 'specialised' in extorting policemen after filing cooked up complaints with the State Human Rights Commission (SHRC) claiming illegal detentions, has now landed behind bars.

The accused, identified as Syed Sarfaroz, had a steady stream of success blackmailing police personnel of three different police stations. His luck ran out when the police smelt a rat after SHRC officials started visiting several police stations for inquiries.

> He (accused) has a network of police constables and was getting information from them. He had extorted money from police personnel from three different police stations
> D Devaraja, DCP (East)

While grilling Sarfaroz, police learnt that he had developed a network of police constables who fed him information about any suspects believed to be in illegal custody. The accused also used to walk into police stations on the pretext of filing complaints and try to find out about those held in lockups by befriending the policemen.

If he suspects that there are illegal detainees in the police station, he would file a complaint with the SHRC. He would then approach the policemen and demand money to settle the matter.

He was caught by the Shivajinagar police after he demanded Rs 50,000 from them. To trap him, they agreed to give him Rs 25,000. When he came to the station, he was arrested and a case of extortion was registered against him.

"Last week, the Shivajinagar police arrested a person, identified as Irshad, in connection with a case registered under the Arms Act. He was arrested around 2.30 am and kept in the police station. Irshad had threatened a hotel's supplier on Broadway Road with weapons. The next day, Mohan, a DySP attached to SHRC, visited the police station. The DySP, after taking the statements of the station house officer and also going through the documents pertaining to the arrest, found that everything was legal," DCP (East) D Devaraja said.

The incident made the police suspect foul play as in a similar manner, SHRC officers had visited Hennur, RT Nagar, Banaswadi, Ramamurthy Nagar, Shivajinagar and Pulakeshinagar police stations. "The officers then found that Sarfaroz was behind this, Devaraja said.

"After his arrest and inquiry, we found out that he was a habitual offender who had targeted North East, Whitefield and East divisions. He has a network of police constables and was getting information from them. He had extorted money from police personnel from three different police stations by blackmailing them," the DCP added.

MC arrested for attacking brother with hockey stick

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

WELL-known quizmaster, MC and restaurateur Mark Rego (55) was arrested by Cubbon Park police on Tuesday morning for allegedly attacking his brother Alan B Rego with a hockey stick. The incident happened on August 1, just two days after the death of his mother, 87-year-old Hedwig Bridgette Rego, a former Member of Parliament.

Mark Rego is alleged to have attacked his brother Alan (60), a musician, between 8am and 8.20am last Thursday. Alan, a bachelor, lives on the first floor, while Mark resides on the ground floor of the family home, located opposite Tulsi Apartment on Rest House Crescent.

"Alan sustained serious head injuries. He was admitted to Bowring Hospital and has stitches on his head. After getting discharged from hospital, Alan is staying at Don Bosco Provincial House on Milton Street in Cooke Town. Alan is out of danger," said an investigating officer.

In his complaint, Alan stated that it was the second attempt on his life. He has accused his brother of assault and death threats.

After the attack, Alan posted about the incident on the Rest House Park Road Residents Welfare Association's (RWA) WhatsApp group, seeking help urgently. "Dear residents of our area, I need your help urgently. My younger brother Mark Rego who lives in our family house (downstairs) has just attempted to kill me for the second time, in one of his usual drunken rages," Alan's WhatsApp message read.

After being discharged, Alan had sent another message, saying he cannot sleep due to Mark's drunken tantrums, which is affecting his blood pressure. "My doctor has warned me that any more stress can cause a stroke or heart attack," the message read.

Meanwhile, Cubbon Park police, after shifting the victim to Bowring Hospital, sent an audio message on the WhatsApp group, asking any family member of the victim to immediately contact them at the hospital. Police have also spoken to Rest House Park Road RWA to gather more information on the alleged attack. Further investigations are on.

'Casting director' promises movie role, dupes girl

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A 21-year-old girl has lodged a police complaint stating that she was duped of Rs 1.7 lakh by a man who promised to cast her in a Tamil movie.

Nanditha K Shetty of Chunchaghatta Main Road, a student of a private college, filed a complaint with the Konanakunte police on August 1.

Police said Nanditha saw a Tamil movie advertisement on Instagram and registered her name and mobile number. An unknown person messaged her on WhatsApp introducing himself as Suresh Kumar and claimed to be a casting director for the Tamil movie 'Hunter'. The accused took an audition online and promised her a role in the film.

He told her that she needs to pay for charges such as agreement, stamp duty, passport and flight expenses. In multiple transactions, the girl transferred Rs 1.70 lakh to the accused in July. When the accused asked for more money, Nanditha grew suspicious and cross-checked to realise that she was cheated, police said.

BMTC e-bus catches fire on flooded road

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A Bangalore Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) electric bus caught fire near Hebbal around 11 pm on Monday. Videos of the bus burning in the middle of the road in heavy rain has gone viral on social media platforms.

There were around 15 passengers inside the bus, which was heading from Goraguntepalya to Tin Factory, when it stopped suddenly after entering a water-logged road. After the passengers were deboarded, the driver and conductor noticed smoke coming out from the rear of the bus. In no time, a fire engulfed the bus, said BMTC sources adding that this is the first time an entire bus has been gutted by fire.

Fire personnel immediately rushed to the spot and doused the fire. While the BMTC has taken up an investigation, the preliminary probe found that an electrical fault could be the reason for the fire.

Unknown woman hangs self in residential building

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A 45-year-old woman was found dead under mysterious circumstances in a four-storey residential building on 15th Cross, Margosa Road in Malleswaram on Tuesday morning.

The woman's identity is yet to be ascertained, and she was not a resident of the building. The police said between 7.30 and 7.45 am, a resident of the building came out of his flat to check after a dog started barking continuously, and found a woman hanging near the steps on the fourth floor.

After analysing nearby CCTV footage, it was found that the woman came with two ropes in a bag. She looked for places and entered the building after noticing that there was no security guard. She climbed the stairs to the fourth floor, and hanged herself from a hook with a rope. A bus ticket from Majestic to Malleswaram was found on the body, police said adding that they didn't find any death note.

6,626 seahorses seized from 3 flyers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI), Bengaluru, busted a significant smuggling network involved in the illegal trade of dried seahorses.

"Acting on some specific intelligence inputs, DRI officials apprehended three men linked to this syndicate at Terminal 1 of Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) on August 3. The suspects were enroute to Singapore through Mumbai, via an IndiGo flight, when their checked baggage was examined, leading to the discovery and seizure of 6,626 seahorses," said sources on condition of anonymity.

The next day, on August 4, in a well-planned follow-up operation, DRI sleuths apprehended the key person, who was allegedly "orchestrating the smuggling operation in Bengaluru. This individual was instrumental in coordinating the procurement and shipment of the seahorses to Singapore. The investigation to unravel the broader smuggling network operating between India and Southeast Asian countries is under way," the sources added.

All species of seahorses in India are classified under Schedule I of the Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972, making their sale, purchase, and any form of utilisation illegal and punishable. Under the export policy, export of wild animals and marine species, including their parts and products, is strictly prohibited.

"The seahorses were seized under the provisions of the Customs Act, 1962, in conjunction with the Wildlife (Protection) Act. The three passengers, all hailing from Tamil Nadu, have been arrested and are under investigation," the sources added.

The demand and illicit trading in seahorses in Southeast Asian markets is driven by their use in traditional medicine, cuisine and ornamental purposes.

Community diabetes centres to come up in state

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO give impetus to diabetes awareness, treatment and care, community diabetes centres will soon come up at district and sub-district hospitals as well as at community and primary health centres across the state.

To this end, the initiative -- Changing Diabetes Barometer -- was launched by the state government in association with the non-profit Novo Nordisk Education Foundation (NNEF) here on Tuesday.

Under the initiative, a holistic approach to diabetes care will be taken up as part of outpatient department consultations. Pilot projects will be launched in three districts -- Bengaluru Urban, Yadgir and Dakshina Karnataka – covering a population of over 1.5 million people.

Diabetes mapping will be done on a real-time basis and promote early diagnosis and treatment options along with lifestyle modifications.

The programme will also support foot and eye care awareness at government facilities for people living with diabetes.

An MoU was signed by Naveen Bhat Y, Mission Director, National Health Mission (NHM), Government of Karnataka, and Vikrant Shrotriya, Managing Trustee, Novo Nordisk Education Foundation, in the presence of Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao and others.

The Indian Council of Medical Research, in its recent study, highlighted that India has around 101 million people living with diabetes and another 136 million people in prediabetic stages, the health minister said.

Will not stop agitation till Siddu resigns: Vijayendra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mandya

THE fourth day of the padayatra organised by the BJP and JDS demanding the resignation of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah over the alleged scam in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) witnessed the participation of more than 20,000 people. The padayatra was taken out on the service road of the Bengaluru-Mysuru Access Controlled Highway amid heavy rain.

State BJP president BY Vijayendra, the Leader of the Opposition in Assembly R Ashoka, and Union Minister for Steel and Heavy Industries HD Kumaraswamy reached Maddur taluk in Mandya district on Monday evening after covering a distance of 58 km from Bengaluru. They, along with the supporters, continued the padayatra from Nidaghatta, a border village of Maddur taluk, on Tuesday morning. Vijayendra shot an arrow towards the sky and flagged off the fourth leg of the padayatra to cover 20 km from Nidaghatta to Mandya.

Addressing the gathering at Maddur town, Vijayendra said that the padayatra is being organised to remove "the corrupt" CM Siddaramaiah and the Congress from power and not with an intention of bringing the BJP back to power in Karnataka.

"Congress had made several promises to the people to come to power. But after assuming office, Congress leaders have forgotten the promises and are indulging in corruption. Due to the 16-month-old corrupt administration, prices of essential commodities have skyrocketed, farmers are denied incentives on milk, and Karnataka has been pushed into financial bankruptcy.

The government is yet to release Rs 1000 crore incentive for dairy farmers, and has diverted the funds meant for the welfare of SCs/STs, he added.

Vijayendra said that there has been an irregularity of Rs 5000 crore in MUDA since Siddaramaiah became the CM.

"While more than a lakh poor people had submitted their applications seeking sites, the MUDA failed to consider their applications and instead allotted sites to Siddaramaiah's family illegally. Similarly, there has been an irregularity of more than Rs 187 crore in the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation. "Our agitation will continue till Siddaramaiah resigns," he added.

State JDS Youth Wing president Nikhil Kumaraswamy said that the Congress government is fully immersed in corruption by looting the taxpayers money. Leader of Opposition R Ashok, BJP leaders CT Ravi, Dr CN Ashwathnarayana, and B Sriramulu. JDS leaders CS Puttaraju, DC Thammanna, SR Mahesh, and Suresh Gowda were present.

Meanwhile, traffic was affected on the highway as vehicles of party workers and leaders were parked on the main and service roads. To add to the problem, even the buses that were arranged to ferry the workers were also parked on the highway.

GOWDA LIKELY FOR VALEDICTORY FUNCTION

Former PM and JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda is likely to take part in the valedictory function of the BJP-JDS' padayatra in Mysuru on Saturday. The padayatra reached Maddur on Tuesday. The alliance partners have decided to turn the function into a mega political event. While BJP leaders here have decided to invite top party leaders, including JP Nadda and national general secretary Radha Mohan Das Agarwal, JDS is expecting Deve Gowda to attend the function. JDS MLC TA Sharavana told TNIE that Deve Gowda is now in New Delhi attending the parliament session. But he will make it to the valedictory function in Mysuru. "Ramanagara, Mandya and Mysuru is JDS' base. Deve Gowda's presence will make the event a big success," he said.

NOW, ANOTHER ACTIVIST WRITES TO GOVERNOR AGAINST CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

MYSURU-based activist Snehamayi Krishna has filed a complaint with Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, alleging improper allocation of government-acquired land in Uttanahalli village, Varuna hobli, in Mysuru district. This comes days after activist TJ Abraham sought the Governor's permission to prosecute CM Siddaramaiah in the alleged MUDA site scam.

According to the complaint letter by Krishna to the Governor, a copy of which is available with TNIE, it is alleged that Siddaramaiah, based on a letter he wrote, facilitated the transfer of the land to individuals unrelated to the original beneficiaries. This resulted in significant injustice to the rightful beneficiaries, the complaint alleged.

Specific allegations have been made regarding Survey No 205/2, where 1.39 acres, including plots within the land in Uttanahalli were allegedly misappropriated. The complaint alleges that the CM, abusing his power and influence over officials, enabled one Marappa and certain officials to create false records and illegally order the release of this land, which had been government property for about 30 years, into Marappa's possession. Krishna cited a letter written allegedly by Siddaramaiah to the then deputy commissioner in 2008.

In the complaint, Krishna has urged Mysuru DC Lakshmikant Reddy to conduct a thorough investigation into this matter and requested the Governor to direct the DC to file a report within 15 days and obtain necessary permissions to file a lawsuit against Siddaramaiah and the involved officials and individuals.

DKS: BJP-JDS trying to topple Congress govt, they're greedy for power

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, who is also the president of the state Congress, has hit out at the BJP and JDS, saying that the two parties were trying to topple the Karnataka government for "greed for power".

He was addressing a Janandolana public meeting in Mandya organised by the Congress to counter the BJP-JDS padayatra.

Shivakumar called the NDA padayatra "sin redemption padayatra" rather than a genuine protest.

Shivakumar claimed that the padayatra was not aimed at addressing issues against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah or himself but was an attempt to topple the government by stopping the guarantee schemes. He accused the opposition of using the march as a means to escape their own corruption charges. He said that the BJP-JDS padayatra was more about political survival than addressing public grievances.

Shivakumar revealed behind-the-scenes political maneuvering, stating that state BJP president Vijayendra's victory from the Shikaripura Assembly constituency was a result of strategic adjustments rather than genuine electoral success.

Shivakumar sarcastically referred to JDS leader and Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy's inconsistency on various issues and challenged him to explain his stance on several projects, including the Mekedatu project and allegations against his family.

Minister Laxmi Hebbalkar defended the Congress government's initiatives, including the Gruha Lakshmi scheme, which had faced technical delays. She said that the payments would be processed shortly. Laxmi also criticised the BJP for its lack of support for Karnataka and accused them of using smear tactics against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

Garland for NDA leaders if HDK gets approval for Mekedatu: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

HOLDING a mammoth rally in Mandya on Tuesday, Congress leaders accused JDS leader and Union minister HD Kumaraswamy of attempting to pull down an elected government due to his greed for power.

They attacked JDS and BJP leaders for failing to get approval for the Mekedatu project, that would benefit more than one lakh farmers, and meet the people's drinking water needs. Addressing the rally, Revenue Minister Krishna Byregowda said they would have garlanded JDS and BJP leaders if they had got a nod for the project, and accused both parties of working against the government for Kannadigas, that is blessed with 136 seats. He said that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is the only leader in the country to fight a case against the Centre in the apex court over denial of NDRF funds.

"We fought to get Rs 3600 cr that was distributed to 36 lakh farmers. This attack on the Centre has shaken up the Centre, that is targeting the Karnataka government for misusing the Governor's office, he said.

Krishna Byregowda said the Governor is not above the Constitution, and criticised him for not giving approval to act against three former ministers, when he has served notice within hours.

He said Union ministers from the state should work for development, rather than pull down the government.

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Tumakuru, Bengaluru

EVEN as CM Siddaramaiah's birthday on August 3 passed off with no mega event this time, his cabinet colleague, Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara's 74th birthday on Tuesday, turned out to be a crowd puller. People from different walks of life gathered at his residence at Gollahalli in Tumakuru district.

A Congress team from Telangana led by PCC general secretary Bollu Kishan were present with a huge cake and wished Dr Parameshwara to become the next CM.Most of the attendees, including KPCC general secretary Ramakrishna and functionary Purushottam, opined that Dr Parameshwara deserved to be the next CM.

A documentary on Dr Parameshwara was screened and food was organised for thousands who had come to wish him. Tumakuru Deputy Commissioner Subha Kalyan and Superintendent of Police Ashok KV ensured that the celebration went off smoothly. Later in the day, a galaxy of leaders, including ministers NS Boseraju and Priyank Kharge, visited Dr Parameshwara at his residence in Bengaluru. Former BJP minister and MLA ST Somashekar, Congress leader BL Shankar, and legislators including AC Srinivas, Anekal Shivanna, and Prasad Abbayya also met Dr Parameshwara, sources said. During his recent visit to Hubballi and Davanagere, Dr Parameshwara received an overwhelming reception, with the supporters welcoming him by raising "next CM Parameshwara" slogans.

Lingayat Mahasabha challenges book, poses questions

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE release of the book 'Vachana Darshana', which has found support among right-wing groups, has been challenged by progressive Lingayat groups. Jagathika Lingayat Mahasabha, challenging the book in a letter to Dharwad Deputy Commissioner, said, "The book 'Vachana Darshana' published by Ayodhya Prakashana and being released in many places across Dharwad district, distorts what great social reformer Shri Basavanna taught." They requested that permission granted to the publishers to release the book in Hubballi on Wednesday, besides other places, be withdrawn forthwith.

Progressive Lingayat groups have posed ten questions to heads of mutts and Lingayats who are ignorant about the book and its purpose. At least one mutt head, Moorusavira Mutt pontiff Guru Siddha Rajayogindra Mahaswamigalu, accepted their arguments and said he would not participate in the book release in Hubballi, where he is one of the invitees, said Kumaranna Patil, a Lingayat activist based out of Dharwad. The ten questions posed to Lingayat mutts are: Are you truly following Basavanna's teachings and his concepts? Had social reformer Basavanna accepted the primacy of Vedas, Upanishads, Agamas and caste system in Lingayat Dharma? Basavanna was a former conformist Hindu and not a social reformer: What is your opinion? Who are the persons behind this book which has distorted Basavanna's teachings? And why have they distorted his teachings?

Many progressive Lingayat group leaders said, "We see they are planning to release the book in dozens of places in the next few days, and we will protest silently. What social reformer Basavanna said in the 13th century cannot be diluted or distorted to suit anyone's needs, least of all Hindutva."

A group of 50 Lingayat protesters had raised slogans on Saturday, saying the book does not present the true picture of Basavanna, and why it cannot be accepted by Lingayats, and were detained by police before being let off. The function was attended by BJP National General Secretary (org) BL Santosh and Shivananda Swamiji of Gadag.

Lingayats said they would continue with their protests across the state and are expected to protest silently wherever the book is slated for release. Meanwhile, actor Chetan, a Lingayat, said, "The storm over the book 'Vachana Darshana' is a binary ideological struggle between those trying to co-opt Basavanna into Hindutva fold, and the establishment's 'progressive' thinkers. Only we 'equalitarians' are true ideological heirs of Basavanna. May all modern interpretations of Basavanna sprout from all sides."

Tumkur varsity convocation today, Governor to share stage with minister

TUMAKURU: Karnataka Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot will take part in the 17th convocation of Tumkur University (TU) at 11.30 am on Wednesday. This will be the first time that the Governor will be sharing the stage with a state cabinet minister—Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar — after the Council of Ministers "strongly advised" the Governor to withdraw the show-cause notice issued to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and reject the petition filed by activist TJ Abraham over the alleged MUDA scam. Gehlot, as the chancellor, will preside over the convocation and confer honorary doctorate to Sri Valmeeki Prasannanda Swami, industrialist HG Chandrashekar, and sportsperson SC Naganandaswamy. Dr Sudhakar will take part in his capacity as the pro-chancellor of state universities. As many as 11,988 candidates, including 10,230 undergraduates, 1,758 postgraduates, 36 PhDs, and three D.Litt students will be awarded with degrees, Vice-Chancellor Prof M Venkateshwarlu said. "We had proposed six names, including actor Sudeep, and the Governor had cleared the three for the honorary doctorate," the V-C said. Former Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) chairman Dr AS Kiran Kumar will deliver convocation address.

'Premature': High Court dismisses PIL on job quota for Kannadigas

BENGALURU: The Karnataka High Court on Tuesday dismissed the public interest litigation filed by a chartered accountant, questioning the legality of the 'The Karnataka State Employment of Local Candidates in Industries and Factories and Other Establishments Bill, 2024'. The division bench of Chief Justice NV Anjaria and Justice KV Aravind dismissed the petition on the ground that it was premature. The petition was filed by Dr Amirthalakshmi R, a chartered accountant from the city. The petitioner stated that it is incumbent upon the state not to enact legislation which patently flouts the principles of fairness and equality under Articles 14 and 19 of the Constitution. Such legislation will open a floodgate of litigation, challenging the constitutional validity at the time of enforcement of penalties for non-compliance, and hence liable to be struck down at the very beginning, she pleaded.

Kerala to build model rehabilitation centre for landslide victims

'Funds won't be a constraint for rebuilding'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

THE state government intends to build a model rehabilitation centre for the landslide-affected people in Wayand, Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan said on Tuesday. Funds will not be a constraint for the rehabilitation effort and the services of architects within the country and abroad will be sought for the project, he said at a news conference in Thiruvananthapuram.

Chief Secretary V Venu will hold discussions with the Army, Navy and Air Force to decide on the future search and rescue plans. The government will expedite identification of bodies through DNA examination and will explore the option of roping in private labs also for the purpose. He added that adequate facilities will be ensured before shifting the displaced from relief camps that are functioning in schools.

Arrangements will be made to allow people to go back to their houses if the buildings are in livable condition. A through cleaning of the houses will be carried out and police personnel will help retrieve valuables. Buildings that are on the verge of collapse will be identified and will be demolished without the permission of the owners by invoking provisions of the Disaster Management Act. New mobile phones and SIM cards will be provided to those who have lost connectivity. Directions have also been issued to distribute free supplies through ration shops in the diaster-hit areas.

While the Disaster Management Authority will begin post disaster needs assessment, the PWD will submit a report on the damage to movable and immovable property, including public buildings. The state relief commissioner will coordinate preparations for the visit of an inter-ministerial team, led by a joint secretary in the Union home ministry, to the worst affected areas in Wayanad.

CMDRF IS TRANSPARENT, SAYS PINARAYI

Amid campaigns against making contributions to Chief Minister's Distress Relief Fund (CMDRF), Kerala CM Pinarayi Vijayan rejected all allegations of misuse of funds. He pointed out that the CAG has audited the CMDRF and no irregularities were found, and added that spreading rumours when the state is dealing with a crisis is highly looked down upon.

Fire breaks out in B'gavi factory, several feared trapped

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

A major fire broke out at an industrial area in Belagavi on Tuesday night, in which several workers are likely to be trapped. Belagavi Deputy Commissioner Mohammad Roshan said 40 to 70 people were working on the night shift when the fire broke out in Sneham International factory in Navage Industrial Area, which manufactures insulation tape.

The fire broke out due to a short-circuit at 9pm, and engulfed the entire factory which is spread across a large area. Firefighters rushed to the spot after an alert, but were able to douse only 70 per cent of the fire by 11.30pm. Massive flames began spreading across the factory before firefighters reached the spot.

At least three persons who sustained burns were rushed to Belagavi district hospital, and it is still unclear as to how many workers were inside the factory, said Roshan. Firefighters, assisted by officials from various government departments, were trying to douse the fire, which could take a couple of hours, he added.

The DC asked the Health department to keep at least 200 beds ready in Belagavi district hospital to treat those who may have suffered burns.

Belagavi Police Commissioner Iada Martin, DCP Rohan Jagadish and several senior officials from various departments were at the spot, coordinating rescue efforts.

As the water level rises, fishermen venture into the Krishna river expecting a good catch | PRASANT MADUGULA

KRISHNA IN SPATE, FLOOD ALERT ISSUED

Guntur: A flood alert has been issued upstream and downstream of Prakasam Barrage in NTR, Krishna, Palnadu and Guntur districts, given the rising water level in the Krishna river. Following heavy inflows from the upper catchment areas, the Srisailam and the Nagarjuna Sagar projects were filled to the brim, and the surplus water was released downstream. The outflow from the Srisailam reservoir was at the discharge rate of 4,03,455 cusecs. With the Nagarjuna Sagar filled up to the full reservoir capacity, around 3 lakh cusecs of surplus water is being released to the Pulichintala project downstream.

Jagan wants Prez rule in AP, cites law & order

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

CONDEMNING the attack on his party workers and the worsening law and order situation, YSRC chief YS Jagan Mohan Reddy reiterated his demand for imposing President's Rule in the State.

He visited a private hospital in Vijayawada on Tuesday, after returning from Bengaluru, to console his party leader Srinivas Rao and two other activists who were undergoing treatment after allegedly thrashed by TDP functionaries in Nawabpet area of Jaggaiahapet, NTR district on August 3.

Speaking to the newsmen outside the hospital, Jagan said, the attack was carried out in a pre-planned manner to assert dominance in the region. "I don't understand what Chandrababu Naidu is going to achieve from this. It is only making people more averse and increasing their anger towards the State government. It will not be long before people will throw TDP into the Bay of Bengal," he said.

The worsening law and order situation was brought to the notice of national parties, High Court and Supreme Court and with the unabated attacks going on, why the President's Rule should not be imposed in the State, he questioned. Expressing grief over the murder of his party activists, the YSRC chief said he will be visiting the family on Thursday.

All 39 accused in M'luru homestay attack acquitted

ENS @ Mangaluru

A local court in Mangaluru on Tuesday acquitted all the 39 accused in the infamous 'homestay attack' case, citing lack of evidence. The 6th Additional District and Sessions Judge, S V Kantharaju acquitted Subhash Padil, Hindu Jagrana Vedike members and others. The incident had caught national attention after the videos of the incident in which the accused assaulted the male and female students were broadcast on news channels.

The incident occured 12 years ago, on July 28, 2012 when 13 college students gathered for the birthday party of their friends at the Morning Mist homestay near Padil Junction. When the birthday party was underway, a group of 40 right wing activists led by Subash stormed the homestay around 6 pm with three video journalists in tow. The city police had arrested 44 people in connection to the case, including journalists Naveen Soorinje, Sharan Raj and a charge-sheet was filed against them. Later, Soorinje was acquitted in January 2018. Three accused have died and a minor accused was acquitted by the Juvenile Justice Board later.

BJP leader accused of rape held in Vijayapura

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

THE police arrested former district BJP social media convenor Sharath SV, also known as Kalyani, for allegedly raping and cheating a woman on the pretext of marriage. He was arrested in Vijayapura after being on the run since the case was lodged.

Sharath is accused of repeatedly raping a divorced woman under the guise of marrying her. He also cheated her of ₹4 lakh. He is also charged with assault and criminal intimidation.

Following the allegations, the district BJP president removed Sharath from his position as social media convenor.

The 43-year-old woman, who works at a travel agent's office, filed a complaint at the Women's Police Station. The woman stated that she befriended Sharath on social media and met him on August 31, 2023. They remained in touch.

He claimed to be unmarried and promised to marry her, despite being informed of her divorced status. Sharath repeatedly assured her of his intentions to marry and support her, before taking advantage of her.

T'GANA COUNCILLOR BOOKED IN 2ND POCSO CASE

Nizamabad: Kothapalli Radhakrishna, the councillor from the third ward of Bodhan Municipality, was on Tuesday arrested by the Yedapally police in a POCSO case. This was the second time a POCSO case has been registered against him. He and his brother K Ravindar had been arrested in June 2023 for allegedly raping a 13-year-old girl.

Priest suspended for offering puja to Darshan's picture

Ballari: A priest from Doddabasveshwara Temple at Kurugodu in Ballari has been suspended by the Endowment Department after he placed photos of actor Darshan at the feet of Doddabasaveshwara statue. Some devotees objected to this and informed the temple authorities. Temple authorities took action against the priest. The incident was reported on Monday in the temple and the priest named Malli (39) is now under suspension. The office has asked him not to enter the temple till the next order.

'Satellite images illustrate regional sensitivities'

THE geologist added that anthropogenic activities make the region more susceptible, and lead to man-made calamities. "There is no dearth of hydro meteorological data from the IMD and it must be available with the local authorities. There are satellite images to illustrate the regional sensitivities. The creep movement is not visible to naked eyes but detected by hard resolution satellite imagery done by the NRSC of the Indian Space Research Organisation. These reports should be carefully studied and followed by the authorities. Sensitive areas should be left as green belt and no habitation should be permitted there. Land pattern use should also be reviewed, and considered for planning developmental activities in the region. There are a lot of GSI reports but they are either not read or not taken seriously," claimed the eminent geologist.

6. The boundary of the diverted forest land shall be suitably demarcated on ground at the project cost, as per the direction of concerned Divisional Forest Officer.
7. The KML file of the area to be diverted and the CA areas shall be uploaded on the e-green watch portal with all requisite details, before Issuing working permission towards linear projects or submitting compliance report for seeking Final/Stage-II approval, as the case may be.
8. The User Agency shall comply to the condition stipulated in the minutes of meeting of 52nd meeting of National Board of Wildlife held on 10.01.2019.
9. All the funds received from the user agency under the project shall be transferred/deposited to CAMPA fund only through e-portal.

B: Conditions which needs to be strictly compiled on field after handing over of forest land to the User Agency by the State Forest Department but the compliance in form of undertaking shall be submitted prior to Final/Stage-II approval:

1. Legal status of the forest land shall remain unchanged.
2. Forest land will be handed over to the User Agency only after required non- forest land for the project is handed over to the User Agency.
3. Compensatory afforestation shall be taken up by the Forest Department over 3.53 ha de-graded forest land, Village Guda Dhamawata, Tehsil- Marwr Junction, Range Jojawar, District Pali of Rajasthan at the cost of the User Agency. As far as possible, a mixture of local Indigenous species shall be planted and mono-culture of any species may be avoided.
4. User agency shall restrict the felling of trees to 06 trees/minimum numbers In the diverted forest land and the trees shall be felled under the strict supervision of the State Forest Department and cost of felling of trees shall be deposited by the User Agency with the State Forest Department.
5. The User Agency shall comply with the guidelines for laying transmission lines through forest areas issued by Ministry vide letter no. 7-25/2012-FC dated 05/05/2014 & 19/11/2014.
6. The User Agency shall comply with the guideline for laying transmission lines through forest areas Issued by Ministry vide Chapter 10 of FCA, 1980 Handbook 2019.
7. The User Agency shall comply with the Hon'ble NGT order for transmission line dated 07.03.2012.
8. The User Agency at its cost shall provide bird deflectors, which are to be fixed on upper conductor of transmission line at suitable intervals to avoid bird hits.
9. No damage to the flora and fauna of the adjoining area shall be caused.
10. The layout plan of the proposal shall not be changed without prior approval of Central Government.
11. No labour camp shall be established on the forest land.
12. Sufficient firewood, preferably the alternate fuel, shall be provided by the User Agency to the labourer after purchasing the same from the State Forest Department or the Forest Development Corporation or any other legal source of alternate fuel,
13. No additional or new path will be constructed inside the forest area for transportation of construction materials for execution of the project work.
14. The period of diversion under this approval shall be co-terminus with the period of lease to be granted in favour of the user agency or the project life, whichever is less.
15. The forest land shall not be used for any purpose other than that specified in the project proposal.
16. The forest land proposed to be diverted shall under no circumstances be transferred to any other agencies, department, or person without prior approval of Govt. of India.
17. The User Agency shall submit the annual self-compliance report in respect of the above stated conditions to the State Government and Integrated Regional Office, Jaipur by the end of March every year.
18. The User Agency shall comply with all the provisions of the all Acts, Rules, Regulations, Guidelines, Hon'ble Court Order (s) and NGT Order (s) pertaining to this project, if any, for the time being in force, as applicable to the project.
19. Violation of any of these conditions will amount to violation of Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980 and action would be taken as per the MoEF&CC Guideline F. No. 11-42/2017-FC di 29/01/2018.
20. Any other condition that the Ministry of Environment, Forests & Climate Change may stipulate from time to time in the interest of conservation, protection, and development of forests & wildlife.
21. The compliance report shall be uploaded on e-portal (https://parivesh.nic.in/).

After receipt of compliance report on fulfilment of all the above conditions from the State Government, proposal will be considered for Final/Stage-II approval under Section-2 of the Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980. The User Agency shall take up the work as per the guidelines in force and alter ensuring that all necessary clearances for the entire stretch are in place. Working permission, If any issued, shall be intimated to IRO, Jaipur. Transfer of forest land shall not be affected till Final/Stage-II approval is granted by the Central Government In this regard.

Further, it may also be noted that this In-principle / Stage-I approval shall be valid for a period of 5 years from the date of issue of this letter. In the event of non-compliance of the above conditions, this In-principal approval shall be revoked after five (05) years.

LESSONS FOR INDIA FROM UPHEAVAL IN BANGLADESH

CONSIDER the combustible context. A country with a fast-growing population witnessed soaring inequality. Persistent high inflation squeezed real incomes year after year. A growing number of private colleges poured many more educated youngsters into a stagnant job pool. Complaints of cronyism accompanied burgeoning bad loans given to allies. And an authoritarian government tried to reconfigure the nationalist narrative in its favour. Given this recent history, one could be forgiven for pointing to the wrong nation on the South Asian map. Finally, it was a word with a uniquely flammable baggage in Bangladesh that lit the short fuse of revolt in the neighbourhood.

Sheikh Hasina Wazed's first major misstep in dealing with the students protesting a job quota for descendants of freedom fighters was letting loose members of the Awami League's students' wing alongside the police. But the anger on the streets really spilled over when she called the protestors 'razakars'. The word, literally meaning volunteers, was used for pro-Pakistani conspirators during Bangladesh's 1971 war of independence.

Chaos has claimed the vacuum created by Hasina's resignation and flight out of the country. The police have left their uniforms and weapons en masse. Amid the ensuing loot and arson, minorities including Hindus are being targeted. It's adding a sharp edge to the anti-India rhetoric on the streets, which the Indian foreign minister rightly highlighted in parliament. The evolving interim government has shadows of 2006. The 84-year-old Nobel laureate Muhammad Yunus, who has agreed to head it, declined a similar call in 2006 when he said he did not have the "neutrality" the role required. Those hoping for a quick restoration of democracy should note Yunus thought the earlier interim government needed more than the two years it got.

None of this leaves India with easy choices. Hasina's presence in Delhi does not help douse the anger in Dhaka. Apart from rising Islamism, there are Big Power interests to mind too. There is, however, much we can do apart from closely guarding our longest border. One of the biggest reasons India is seen as an inconsiderate Big Brother is that we import very little from our neighbour. The recent push for an infrastructure link to India's Northeast can come with a comprehensive trade plan for our neighbour. Both countries need it, because what's happening in Bangladesh will not stay there.

KARNATAKA PADAYATRA POLITICS KICKS UP DUST

THERE is a certain power in a political padayatra—while it may not move mountains, it is known to have dislodged governments. It gives a leader the chance to walk the talk, connect with people and mobilise public opinion. In Karnataka, the BJP-JDS alliance is on a seven-day yatra from Bengaluru to Mysuru to create awareness on the alleged Mysore Urban Development Authority (MUDA) scam involving Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, and diversion of funds for SC/ST welfare from the Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation. The clear aim is to unseat Siddaramaiah. The Congress is countering the yatra with Janandolana programmes along the same route to explain its position. There is likely to be more mudslinging until Governor Thaawar Chand Gehlot makes his next move on the MUDA scam.

Karnataka has had an abiding relationship with padayatras. The BJP-JDS alliance is doing unto Siddaramaiah what he did to the then CM B S Yediyurappa in July 2010, when he had set off on a 320-km march from Bengaluru to Ballari to highlight 'misgovernance' and the iron ore mining scam involving the Reddy brothers, who were ministers in the first BJP government in the South. Its image sullied, the BJP government banned mining. But the padayatra, combined with Lokayukta Santosh Hegde's report, led to Yediyurappa's resignation in 2011. The BJP is now hoping for a sweet revenge.

There is more to the padayatra than just a march against the government. It is a tactical gambit by the first families of the BJP and JDS to propel their younger leaders to the front—B Y Vijayendra, looked upon as a future chief minister, is leading the yatra, while H D Kumaraswamy is projecting son Nikhil as his political heir in the Ramanagara-Channapatna-Mandya Vokkaliga heartland. It also gives the BJP a chance to make inroads into the Old Mysore region. It can also bolster the yatri's image—after his Ballari walkathon, Siddaramaiah went on to become CM in 2013. Deputy CM D K Shivakumar had undertaken a march for the Mekedatu project in 2022 and built positive public opinion. Former CM S M Krishna had also walked for farmers over the Cauvery water dispute. As of now, the BJP-JDS padayatra is only kicking up dust. It remains to be seen if the alliance reaps any political dividend from it in the near future.

QUICK TAKE

SHIELDING ATHLETES FROM ABUSE

THE International Olympic Committee expects the 2024 Summer Games to generate more than half a billion social media posts excluding comments. The 15,000-odd athletes competing in Paris and elsewhere are being subjected to intense scrutiny—on everything from their dress and body language to performance. So the IOC is using artificial intelligence to guard the athletes from online abuse during one of the most stressful and vulnerable times in their careers. Two aspects of the initiative are worth emulating—the focus on the athletes' mental health and the use of smart technology. India, which wants to host the 2036 Games, should start preparing on this front too.

The security of the Northeast depends largely on the strength of Indo-Bangla relations. We should keep that in mind while establishing relations with the new regime in Bangladesh

THE IMPACT OF SHEIKH HASINA'S ABDICATION

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University of Kashmir

AFTER a 20-year rule, 15 of them uninterrupted, Sheikh Hasina Wazed ingloriously abdicated her position as prime minister of Bangladesh and hurriedly left Dhaka for New Delhi. A dishonourable exit for an otherwise honourable leader, Sheikh Hasina was India's steadfast friend and had become an institution unto herself. One flank of India was truly secure as long as she ruled—the country's longest border did not see instability with her presence in Dhaka. We knew this could not last forever, but no one could imagine such a sudden and violent change. The question is, why did this happen?

It's important to understand Bangladesh's internal political and social environment of the last 15 years, but it's even more crucial to comprehend the generic social-political environment of the country since its creation. After a violent birth as a nation, Bangladesh continued to suffer from internal conflicts between those who fought the Pakistan Army and those who cooperated with it in 1971. The latter were called 'razakars'—the people who today bear a grudge against India.

This term was recently used by Sheikh Hasina to describe those who opposed her in the streets and perpetrated the violence. Her father Sheikh Mujibur Rahman's entire family was wiped out by the very people who were supposedly his supporters during the 1971 war of independence. She escaped because of her absence from the country. Her deeply suspicious bent of mind has roots in this tragedy. It meant that she gave very little space to any opposition. Although democratic in outlook, she brooked no opposition to her rule.

Most people of her country rued this quality, although they recognised her great contribution in uplifting 25 million Bangladeshis from poverty. Banning opposition parties and conducting non-participative elections became a repeated feature. The biggest fear perceived to be in Sheikh Hasina's mind was of radical Islamists—the Jamaat e Islami—who she felt constantly connived with the razakars to oust her.

The Jamaat had earlier been banned by Mujibur, but was permitted to function as a political party after his death. It was banned again this August 1. Sheikh Hasina always perceived a threat from the Jamaat, which seeks Sharia law and imposition of radical Islamic practices in the social and political makeup of the Bangladeshi state.

What triggered the recent violence? It was an explosion of pent-up anger among the people, particularly the younger generations. Bland, engineered elections gave no sense of participation to the young and old. But the issue that brought people to the streets was the now-infamous quota in the civil service and public sector jobs for the wards of freedom fighters dating back to 1972—of as much as 30 percent. Those who benefitted were a readymade vote bank for the Awami League, the grand old party of Mujibur.

SOURAV ROY

In 2018, amid protests against high unemployment, Hasina herself decided to do away with the quota system. This June, when the country's Supreme Court reimposed the quotas, she even filed an appeal against it, considering it politically insensitive. It's ironic that in this period the protesting students and the government of Sheikh Hasina were on the same page. Despite the convergence, there was more violence and counter-violence. Islamic radicals who have long been wishing to establish a bigger footprint here, found the right opportunity in the form of an ongoing agitation that they could energise and exploit. Hence the paradox of violence despite being on the same side of the argument.

Radical connections in Dhaka are old, but as recently as 2015, it became a major issue with failed efforts to network with the Da'ish or the Islamic State. Da'ish even attempted a terrorist attack in 2016 on a high-profile bakery in the posh Gulshan area of Dhaka, using six freshly-recruited well-educated, local young men as suicide attackers.

But why couldn't Sheikh Hasina comprehend the fast-evolving situation in recent weeks? My understanding points to her extreme fixation with those whom she perceived were ranged against her liberal and more secular philosophy. Her establishment probably wore blinkers while pandering to her personal threat perception, and hence did not pick up the several straws in the wind.

In terms of regional impact, there is no doubt that India hugely values stability along the 4,000-km border and a pro-Indian policy orientation of the neighbouring government. It helped stabilise our once-restive Northeast. Her presence obviated much of Pakistan's potential to attempt extending the arc of Islamic extremism to Bangladesh. The Chinese, who looked for investment opportunities, became Bangladesh's largest trading partner. With an active Sino-Indian rivalry, enabling the removal of a pro-India leader from the region would provide China the potential to further their interests with the new leadership. It's notable that the weapons profile of the Bangladeshi armed forces is largely Chinese.

So where or who are the new leaders? In the euphoria of achieving Hasina's ouster, the younger elements of society are currently obsessed with tearing down the parliament house and the PM's personal quarters. The army will not use weapons against them—rightly so. Thus, mayhem could well prevail for a few days. The Bangladesh Army is currently giving their society leeway of a kind that the latter has not witnessed in a long time. Sooner than later, it has to decide how to tackle this youth anger.

For India, there are a couple of major imponderables at this stage. It must be agreed that the perception of our country is not too positive on the streets of Bangladesh. We cannot afford to create a third adversary on our frontiers and must therefore pragmatically think through all the options. Befriending the next government must be accompanied with an outreach to the people whose perception should be influenced by positive gestures. One thing is clear—the stability and security of Northeast India is largely dependent on the status and strength of Indo-Bangladesh relations.

The million-rupee question is where Sheikh Hasina should be given asylum in India or somewhere else. Prudence demands that India must progressively build its relationship with the new government of Bangladesh and not do anything to hamper it. That should give an indication, although not the answer. India may host Hasina long enough for her find alternative avenues for her eventual future, but not forever.

A BUDGET BOOST FOR MORE WOMEN AT WORK

ELLINA SAMANTROY

Faculty and coordinator, Centre for Gender and Labour, V V Giri National Labour Institute, Noida

THE Union Budget for 2024-25 has allocated more than ₹3 lakh crore for schemes benefitting women and girls. If used properly, this allocation can be a game-changer for a country that has witnessed extremely low participation of women in the workforce. India ranks 129th in the World Economic Forum's 2024 Global Gender Gap index among 146 countries.

The latest Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS) reported the participation rate of women in the workforce was at 35.9 percent in 2022-23, while that of men was 76 percent—a gap of over 40 percentage points. Though women's participation has increased 13.9 percentage points from the PLFS round of 2017-18, it is mostly attributed to self-employment, at around 65 percent. Women's concentration in self-employment, mostly informal, has remained a major concern from a policy perspective as it reflects low-quality work and challenges in accessing social security.

Employment generation and improving employability have remained the top priorities for the government. There have been various initiatives to promote women's participation. The PLFS has shown women are mostly employed in services and manufacturing sectors. The latest budget aims to support working women through setting up hostels in collaboration with industry and establishing creches, a significant step for boosting women's ability to work across sectors. Some other proposals to encourage women's work participation include promotion of women-specific skilling programmes and market access for women's self-help groups' products. Such initiatives have the potential to promote entrepreneurship.

The special attention given to smaller enterprises and manufacturing, particularly labour-intensive manufacturing, is a consequential move as the manufacturing sector happens to be one of the largest employers of women. The budget includes a package that covers financing, regulatory changes and technology support for smaller enterprises for encouraging growth. Though manufacturing is one of the largest sectors in urban areas employing women, they are mostly employed in low-end processing work in apparel, textile and tobacco segments. Women-owned MSMEs constitute 20.5 percent of the total MSMEs registered on the Udyam Registration Portal since its inception on July 2020. The contribution of women-owned MSMEs to total turnover of Udyam-registered MSMEs is 10.22 percent.

However, there are pay gaps in MSMEs since women are mostly in informal arrangements. Lack of educational attainment, skills, adequate welfare, coupled with the burden of domestic care responsibilities push women towards these sectors.

To address these challenges, the government initiated several schemes in the past, including working women's hostels known as Sakhi Niwas implemented by the Ministry of Women and Child Development. This

PTI

> Lack of educational attainment and skills, plus the burden of domestic care responsibilities, push women away from the formal job market in India. This budget's provisions can be used to directly and indirectly support working women through better infrastructure and transport options centrally-sponsored scheme aims to promote availability of safe and conveniently located accommodation for working women with daycare facilities for their children in urban, semi-urban and rural areas. Presently, there are 494 centrally-sponsored functional working women's hostels in the country with children's daycare facilities. The scheme, launched in 1972-73, became a part of Mission Shakti during 2021-22 under the Samarthya sub-scheme. The budget allocation towards this scheme was ₹87.40 crore during FY 2024-25. As per government reports, some states like Bihar and West Bengal are yet to establish such hostels while some southern states like Kerala, Karnataka and Tamil Nadu have more of such hostels. These can be strengthened in states with the new budget allocation, in places where there are fewer or no hostels.

In January 2024, the Ministry of Labour and Employment released an advisory for employers that reflected the need to create working women's hubs, where the local large and small enterprises can collaborate to build common facilities with attached creches and senior care facilities. The budgetary support for smaller enterprises can be used to create such hubs, making it possible for women to join the workforce.

The budget's emphasis on skilling opens up a plethora of opportunities. An interesting aspect is its focus on skilling curriculums that have remained in academic and policy discourse for long. The Industrial Training Institutes (ITIs) have been questioned for promoting gender stereotypical trades like beautician and tailoring courses for women and driving, plumbing, electrical courses for men. As per the PLFS, 12.3 percent women and 26 percent men received vocational training in the 15-59 age group in 2021-22, with evident gender gaps.

A study titled 'Gender study to identify constraints on female participation in skill training and labour market in India' from the Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship reported that geographical location was a factor determining the choice of trades along with a reluctance to allow women in engineering-related trades. In collaboration with the International Labour Organization, neighbouring countries like Bangladesh have developed national strategies to promote female participation in technical and vocational education while creating linkages with industry demands.

A report from the NITI Aayog on 'Transforming ITIs' in January 2023 revealed female enrolment was affected by several factors like non-availability of hostels, lack of safe transport options, and limited trades made available to women. The report recommended special provisions for transport and hostel facilities. With the budget allocation this year, the government can address these concerns to promote greater access for women to enter the workforce.

Restore order

Ref: People's power purges Hasina (Aug 6). Bangladesh is in disarray as a result of Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina's resignation and departure to India. Stability and harmony are critical when an interim administration assumes power. It is imperative that an impartial interim administration be established right away in order to address public grievances and restore order.

Neighbourhood stability

One hopes normalcy is expedited in Bangladesh through a long-lasting solution. That nation cannot afford civil unrest, considering its fragile economy. Moreover, the stability of South Asia is to India's interest, considering the China factor.
George Jacob, Kochi

Brave decision

The fleeing of Sheikh Hasina is a colossal loss for Bangladesh. She could have resorted to an internal emergency, but didn't. Her fleeing is not cowardice but bravery. The lack of a veteran ruler in the nation would only cause internal wars between factions that would only trigger an illegal mass migration to India.

Railways' journey

Ref: Railways' race against time (Aug 6). It's true, the railways still needs improvement. But when compared to how it was in the 60s and 70s, rail travel today is much more comfortable. The stations are cleaner with better facilities. For the amount of passengers handled by the railways, this cheap mode of transport for the common man must be appreciated.

Snail's pace

The article rightly highlights the sad state of the railways and the "delusions of grandeur" that afflicts the current dispensation. The key factor for the smooth functioning of cities and settlements is good public transport. In the last 4 decades, modernisation of the IR has been at snail's pace. The same outdated filthy so-called AC sleepers, chair cars, etc. have plied our network. We have placed our top priority upon road networks instead of rail.

BUILDING CONSENSUS

ALL-PARTY MEET

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR AND PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AT an all-party meeting on Tuesday chaired by External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar to discuss the Bangladesh issue, Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi raised questions about involvement of foreign forces in creating unrest in India's neighbourhood, said sources.

The meeting, that started an hour before the session got underway, drew the cooperation of all parties, except AAP, which was reportedly not invited. Jaishankar said that government has been monitoring the evolving situation after the embattled former Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina fled the country and landed in India on Monday. He, however, did not rule out the role of foreign governments in the unrest.

Congress sources said Gandhi also asked about the government's strategy in dealing with the crisis in the neighbouring country.

A concern about the safety of Indian students in Bangladesh was also raised, to which the government assured that the steps are being taken to ensure their safety along with that of the Hindu minority. India has already spoken to the Bangladesh Army Chief to ensure the safety of over 10,000 Indian students. The current situation in Bangladesh does not warrant the evacuation of the Indians.

Jaishankar said that India has assured help to Hasina, and given her time to decide the future course of action. Rahul Gandhi and other leaders extended full cooperation to the government on the issue.

An MP from Opposition said, "It's a matter of the country. So, no politics on it please... We all are with the government on the situation".

Jaishankar also took to X to announce that the meeting resulted in unanimous support from all parties involved. Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, Home Minister Amit Shah, Health Minister J P Nadda, JD(S) leader and Union Minister H D Kumaraswamy, were among those who attended the meeting.

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR & RAMASHANKAR @ Guwahati, Patna

AS the civil unrest in Bangladesh continues, Assam, Tripura, Mizoram and Meghalaya have heightened security along the international border. Bihar has also issued an alert in the districts situated close to the Bangladesh border.

Tripura Chief Minister Manik Saha said on Tuesday, "I spoke to the chief secretary, DGP and senior officials of the BSF, Assam Rifles and others. I asked them to maintain a close watch on the border." The CM said he has been in constant touch with the Centre. "We will act according to instructions from Delhi."

Asked about reported stray incidents of attacks on the houses of Hindus in Bangladesh, he said, "I saw it on social media that people from the majority community there are preventing these incidents and giving protection."

Meanwhile, Meghalaya has imposed night curfew along its border with Bangladesh. Deputy CM Prestone Tynsong said, "The 6 pm-6 am curfew will remain in force until the situation in Bangladesh improves." The Assam government issued a high alert in four districts. The BSF's Guwahati frontier also issued high alert to address potential security threats.

"Commanders have been directed to maintain utmost vigilance and readiness to handle any unforeseen circumstances," BSF said in a statement. The Mizoram government instructed police to prevent illegal border crossings. An alert has been sounded in bordering districts of Bihar in the wake of recent political upheaval in neighbouring Bangladesh, a senior police officer said.

Bihar ADG (headquarters) Jitendra Singh Gangwar said, "SPs of the bordering districts have been asked to keep a vigil on the border in coordination with the central armed police force and central paramilitary forces." Although boundary of none of Bihar districts is directly connected with Bangladesh, its porous border with Nepal is considered vulnerable for infiltration.

Kishanganj district in north Bihar is close to Bangladesh border. However, districts situated in Seemanchal region -- Purnea, Kishanganj, Katihar and Araria – are vulnerable to infiltrations from Nepal side.

Wrong to blame India for Bangla unrest: Ex-envoy

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

BANGLADESH is caught in a political turmoil following the students' protests that resulted in the ouster of former prime minister Sheikh Hasina. There is likely to be a caretaker government headed by Nobel Laureate Muhammed Yunus. While there are speculations on the future of India-Bangladesh relationship, former Indian ambassador to Bangladesh, Veena Sikri, said these are "difficult times for the country but India-Bangladesh ties will endure."

Speaking about the historic India-Bangladesh relationship, she countered comments made by Muhammed Yunus on India's "flawed" foreign policy towards Bangladesh and said, "India has always been a very close friend of Bangladesh and will continue to work towards enhancing mutual ties and people to people relationships. India has always dealt with every elected government with the same sincerity of purpose."

"It is wrong to say that India should have intervened during the deadly students' clashes. We maintained that this was their internal matter and we stood by our policy. How could India intervene and on what grounds? The protests started in June on a peaceful note and students were on the same page as the government. If we had interfered then there would have been anti-India riots in Bangladesh," added Sikri.

On the allegation that India congratulated Hasina on her re-election in a "flawed" election, Sikri said that a number of foreign observers, including from India, were sent during Bangladesh elections and none of them found any fault with the process. "The Bangladesh Nationalist Party (BNP) had withdrawn from the polls and the Jamaat-i-Islami was barred by the high court from contesting the elections," she said.

The diplomat said it would amount to selective amnesia if people forget that Hasina had abolished the quota system for six years between 2018 and 2024. On an appeal, the HC had restored it and Hasina appealed against it before the Supreme Court. "A section of the students' groups went along with her. What unfolded in the last few days of the clashes, which led to her ouster, was more than a students' protest," she said.

"The visuals of protestors bringing down the statue of their founding father Sheikh Mujibur Rehman, torching Dhaka House and vandalising the Indian Cultural Centre in Dhaka do not seem to be the work of students. It speaks of the involvement of vested interests, even the students' wings of some political parties," said Sikri.

Sikri did not rule out the role of China and Pakistan in the escalation of the clashes in Bangladesh and said that India should closely watch the developments and be on the "top of things and safeguard our people and interests in Bangladesh. We must constantly engage with the military and civilian authorities to ensure the safety of Indians and our religious and cultural places, and to continue the development of the bilateral relationship," she added.

India, Bangla Armies keep communication channels open

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

WHILE the dilemma of Bangladesh Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina on whether she will leave India for a third country or opt to stay here longer persists, channels of communication between Indian and Bangladesh military establishments remain open, sources said.

"Channels of military-to-military communication are functioning normally," a senior officer of the Indian Army said. While the situation remains fluid in Bangladesh due to the political turmoil, the Bangladesh Air Force has not yet withdrawn its participation from the Exercise Tarang Shakti, the Indian Air Force's first-ever multilateral air exercise being held in two phases. The exercise will include participation of assets from 10 foreign countries and 18 other countries will participate as observers.

The first phase of the exercise, which was launched on Tuesday at the Sulur Air Force Station in Tamil Nadu, will continue till August 14. The Bangladesh Air Force, among others, will participate in the second phase, which will be held from August 29 to September 14 at the Rajasthan airbase.

"Sheikh Hasina is expected to decide her destination in a couple of days and she may opt for another country," another officer said. While it was reported that she will be opting to go to London to seek asylum, the UK called for a UN-led probe into the violence, expressing unwillingness to give her asylum or temporary refuge.

Hasina arrived in India on Monday in Bangladesh Air Force's C-130J transport aircraft which went back on Tuesday.

Meanwhile, at an all-party meeting on Bangladesh, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar appreciated the support from all the MPs and said the Indian government wants to give time to Hasina to decide her future course of action.

BSF cautions against night movement

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

THE Border Security Force (BSF) has asked people residing near the India-Bangladesh borders not to move unnecessarily in the frontier areas especially during the night in the wake of turmoil in the neighbouring country.

It also asked its units deployed in the eastern frontier to remain alert at all along the borders that runs across West Bengal (2,217 km), Tripura (856 km), Meghalaya (443 km), Assam (262 km) and Mizoram (318 km), the officials said.

DG BSF Daljit Singh Chawdhary visited the Petrapole land port station in West Bengal to assess the ground situation. A senior BSF official said, "The DG was accompanied by senior officers of the South Bengal Frontier of the force headquartered at Kolkata."

The DG was briefed about the available troop strength and other procedures being undertaken to ensure that no illegal person crosses over this border, the officials said.

"All the field commanders are directed to ensure the sanctity of the front and instances of infiltration, cross-border crimes and smuggling should be dealt with strictly," another senior officer said, adding that the villagers and locals residing in the five bordering states have been asked not venture out, especially during night.

It has also been decided that all shops in the market should be closed by 9 pm and announcements would be made from mosques that villagers should stay away from the border areas, said officials.

MoS defence says can't share data on manpower shortage in armed forces

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN a rare response, the Ministry of Defence (MoD) refused to share the data on manpower shortage in the Armed Forces of the country.

Sanjay Seth, the Minister of State for Defence, cited "national security" as the reason for not divulging the details in a written reply in the Rajya Sabha. "The information sought is a sensitive operational matter concerning national security and it would not be in the national security interest to divulge related details in the public domain," said Seth.

Seth was responding to Telangana Rajya Sabha MP Anil Kumar Yadav Mandadi of Indian National Congress who had had asked the Defence Minister about details on the shortage of staff, including officers, soldiers, medical officers etc., in the armed forces. Also, Mandadi sought to rely on any comprehensive measures/steps to fill up the vacancies that are existing in the armed forces.

There has been a practice in the past with data on existing vacancies and the shortage of manpower regularly given out. The latest data on vacancies was tabled in March 2023 as Javed Ali Khan of Samajwadi Party sought details of vacancies of officers and jawans in Indian Army and those filled.

In reply, MoS Defence Ajay Bhatt had stated that 8,070 vacancies for officers and 1,27,673 for the Junior Commissioned Officers (JCOs) and Other Ranks (ORs) existed.

Highlighting the denial of data by the MoD, Mallikarjun Kharge, Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha pointed out that the "government has been publishing this important information on the number of vacancies of officers, soldiers, JCOs and medical officers, from time to time, since the past few years."

"National Security is paramount for the Indian National Congress, and real National Interest demands that the actual number of vacancies in the Armed Forces be made public, so that comprehensive measures are taken to fill in those vacancies to protect the territorial integrity of the nation," Mallikarjun said.

The shortage increased due to suspension of recruitment during the Covid-19 pandemic while the retirement continued. In a March 2022 written reply to Rajya Sabha, Minister of State for Defence Ajay Bhatt cited the Covid-19 pandemic as the reason for cancelling all the rallies nationwide.

There was no recruitment at the soldier's level within the force for about two years which led to the scarcity pinching the forces operationally.

Major changes in Wakf laws mooted by govt

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

FROM renaming the Wakf Act to providing representation to women and a separate Board of Auqaf for Boharas and Aghakhanis, the government has proposed several amendments to the Wakf Act, 1995. Significantly, the proposed bill has omitted contentious section 40 relating to powers to decide if a property is Wakf property.

The bill is expected to be tabled in Parliament this week. The Opposition said it would oppose the bill.

To ensure women's representation, the bill proposes to provide a broad composition of the Central Wakf Council and the state Wakf boards and ensure the representation of Muslim women and non-Muslims.

The government said to overcome shortcomings and to enhance the efficiency of administration of Wakf properties, it proposed renaming of the Wakf Act as the Unified Wakf Management, Empowerment, Efficiency, and Development Act.

A house for LoP: Sunehri Bagh VIII bungalow, Rahul may shift in 3 months

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

IT is official that Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi will stay at bungalow number 5 on Sunehri Bagh Road, which was offered to him last month. Following his acceptance, a letter of allotment has been issued, confirmed officials.

Rahul is expected to move in as soon as renovation and other arrangements, like office space, are made available according to his requirements.

"Rahul has already given his acceptance. He will shift to the new place once the house is ready; renovated and has office space. It will take about three months. Till then, he will be staying at Janpath," said Congress leaders. After the offer from the House Committee last month, Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra inspected the house, a Type VIII sprawling bungalow.

Since becoming a member of Lok Sabha, Rahul had been staying at property number 12 on Tughlaq Lane until his disqualification from the House last year. He had to vacate the house following his conviction in a defamation case. Subsequently, he shifted to 10, Janpath, which has been his mother Sonia Gandhi's residence for years. Rahul has been living there even after his disqualification was stayed by the Supreme Court.

Meanwhile, newly elected MPs are being offered allotment of bungalows and flats in Lutyens' area in New Delhi. According to officials, about 150 first-time MPs will receive allotment letters by Tuesday evening. All ministers have already been given accommodations.

At least four Delhi MPs have been allocated the same bungalows held by their predecessors. New Delhi MP Bansuri Swaraj has reportedly been allotted house number 14 on Mahadev Road, previously occupied by former state minister Meenakshi Lekhi. West Delhi MP Kamaljeet Sehrawat requested bungalow number 20 at Windsor Palace, which served as the official residence of Parvesh Verma. Her request has been accepted by the House Committee, said sources.

South Delhi MP Ramvir Singh Bidhuri and Northeast Delhi MP Manoj Tiwari have decided to retain their existing accommodations. Bidhuri was given a bungalow on Zakir Husain Marg as he was the leader of opposition in the Delhi assembly. He conveyed to the committee his preference to retain the same house as he was not interested in shifting to another location. East Delhi MP Harshdeep Malhotra has been allocated a house on Janpath as he is a state minister.

● Troops use drones, helicopters for surveillance in Udhampur ● For the first time, 150 personnel shifted from Northeast to the region

Gunfight erupts yet again in Jammu

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

EVEN as additional troops have been rushed to the Jammu region and security tightened to tackle the growing militancy, an encounter broke out between militants and security forces in the forest area of Jammu and Kashmir's Udhampur district on Tuesday.

Deputy Inspector General (DIG) Udhampur-Reasi Range, Raees Bhat said a specific input was received regarding militants' movement in Khaned, part of the Basantgarh forest area. "Security forces launched a search operation in the wee hours today. During the search operation, contact was established with the militants hiding in the forest area," he said.

ADGP Jammu Anand Jain said an exchange of fire took place between the two sides. A security official said it is suspected that a group of two to four Pakistani militants are trapped in the security forces cordon. After the initial exchange of gunfire, additional contingents of police, CRPF and army men were rushed to the forest area to tighten the siege and prevent militants from escaping deep into the forest area, he said.

The troops were using drones and Army helicopters for aerial surveillance to pinpoint the militant location in the dense forest area. Sniffer dogs have also been pressed into service to track down the militants, who are said to be well-armed. The encounter comes amid heightened security in the region. Security forces launched massive search and combing operations in forest areas of Poonch, Rajouri, Doda, Kathua and Udhampur districts after a surge in militant violence.

The encounter comes a fortnight after the last militant attack in Jammu region on the residence of Shaura chakra awardee VDC member Purshottam Kumar in the remote village of Rajouri in which a soldier and a relative of the VDC member were injured and 10 days after BAT attack on an Army post in Machil sector in north Kashmir in which an Army man and a Pak intruder were killed.

After the surge in militant attacks and militant violence in the Jammu region in which 14 soldiers and nine pilgrims were killed, about 4,000 additional troops, including 500 specially trained para commandos, have been deployed in the area to foil militants' plan to shift militancy to Jammu region. On July 15, four soldiers, including a Captain, were killed in an encounter with militants in a dense forest area of Doda.

According to security officials, about 50-60 heavily armed and well-trained Pakistani militants are active in the Jammu region. The militants are suspected to be Afghan war veterans and retired Pakistani service men. The militants, according officials, have split into smaller groups of 2-3 and made natural caves in the forest areas as their hide-outs where they disappear after carrying out the attacks.

Besides additional deployment, security agencies are upgrading the human and technical intelligence to get more information about hiding militants. The Village Defence Groups (VDGs), formerly Village Defence Committees (VDCs), have been revived and are being armed with automatic weapons to assist security forces in anti-militancy operations in the region.

The counter-infiltration grid along the LoC and International Border (IB) has been strengthened and police have deployed a special force at the frontiers.

SOPS FOR KASHMIRI PANDITS

- To facilitate the return of the migrated Kashmiri Pandits to the Valley, the Prime Minister's job package was announced in 2015 for the migrant youth
- Out of 6,000 government jobs sanctioned under Prime Minister's Development Package-2015 and Prime Minister's Reconstruction Plan-2008, about 5,724 Kashmiri migrants have been appointed
- Unemployed migrant Pandit youth are also being facilitated to get financial assistance under self-employment schemes
- The government is also providing cash assistance of ₹13,000/ migrant Pandit family per month
- They are also being provided 9 kg rice per person, 2 kg atta per person and 1 kg sugar per family per month as basic

Select troopers of Assam Rifles will be moved to Jammu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE government has decided to move around 150 personnel of Assam Rifles from its core area — Northeast — for the first time and to deploy them in the Jammu region, which has witnessed terror attacks in recent times, officials said on Tuesday.

The troopers, who will be moved, will include a few from ethnic strife-hit Manipur and the force might have a small base in Jammu & Kashmir soon, they said. The Assam Rifles is a unique paramilitary force, as its operational command is with the Indian Army and it comes under Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) with regard to administrative matters. Senior positions in the force are staffed by Indian Army officials and it is headed by a lieutenant general.

This will be the first time that two forces, Rashtriya Rifles and Assam Rifles, under the control of the Indian Army will be deployed in the Jammu region.

According to the officials, the personnel for new deployment will be drawn from Manipur, where the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) will replace the operational area of the Assam Rifles. Two battalions of CRPF would be deployed in Churachandpur, replacing the Assam Rifles, they added.

While Kuki groups are opposing this development, the government has decided to proceed with the changes in deployment, sources said, adding that Meitei groups have alleged that the Assam Rifles favours the Kukis and should be withdrawn from parts of Manipur.

It is to be noted here that the Assam Rifles has grown substantially over the years, from 17 battalions in 1960 to 46 battalions at present. The force also has a training centre and several logistics units across north-east.

Through its long deployment in the tribal belt, the Assam Rifles has earned the complete confidence of the locals and has helped significantly in bringing the people of the north-east region into the national mainstream.

Boost for ex-Punjab Guv Banwarilal Purohit

At the two-day conference of governors held at Rashtrapati Bhawan in New Delhi last week, President Droupadi Murmu emphasized prioritising the poor and deprived in her opening statement to the governors. She urged them to visit border areas in their respective states. Union Home Minister Amit Shah also encouraged governors to tour vibrant villages and aspiring districts to bolster developmental efforts. Former Punjab Governor Banwarilal Purohit had clashed with CM Bhagwant Mann over his visits to the state's border districts during his tenure. Mann criticised Purohit, urging him to avoid creating conflict.

Sanjeev Kaushal, a 1986 batch Haryana cadre IAS officer, quietly retired from service on July 31. Kaushal served as the Chief Secretary of Haryana but had been on leave since March 15. Upon the appointment of Nayab Saini as Chief Minister, the charge of Chief Secretary was transferred to T.V.S.N Prasad, a 1988 batch IAS officer who previously served as Additional Chief Secretary for Revenue and Home. The customary dinner hosted by the IAS Officers Association for the outgoing Chief Secretary was canceled due to inclement weather predictions.

'Haryana Maange Hisaab Yatra' gains attention

Rohtak Member of Parliament Deepender Hooda's ongoing "Haryana Maange Hisaab Yatra" has garnered attention for its striking resemblance to opposition leader Rahul Gandhi's previous "Bharat Jodo Yatra". From Hooda's white T-shirt to his mid-yatra interactions with local women and villagers, Hooda appears to be adopting Gandhi's proven formula for success. Political analysts have drawn parallels between their speeches, body language, and even the videos of the yatra uploaded on social media. Deepender launched the second phase of his campaign in Shahabad on the martyrdom day of Shaheed Udham Singh.

Suspension of Raj Cong MLA triggers uproar

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE budget session of the Rajasthan Assembly concluded abruptly on Tuesday with massive tensions persisting between the ruling and opposition parties, following the suspension of Congress MLA Mukesh Bhakar. Speaker Vasudev Devnani imposed a six-month suspension on Bhakar, which led to further unrest and an indefinite adjournment of the House after the national anthem was sung.

The controversy erupted on Monday when Leader of Opposition Tikaram Julie had raised concerns about the appointment of public prosecutors under outdated regulations, ignoring the Indian Civil Defense Code. Julie also criticised the appointment of Law Minister Jogaram Patel's son as Additional Advocate General.

The situation escalated when the opposition members moved to the well of the House and began sloganeering in response to protests from the ruling party. During this disruption, Congress MLA Mukesh Bhakar allegedly pointed a finger at Speaker Devnani, which the Speaker found unacceptable.

Uddhav's Maha pitch — stakes claim for CM face ahead of assembly polls

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

SHIV Sena (UBT) president Uddhav Thackeray, who is on a three-day Delhi visit, is set to meet the leaders of the opposition INDIA bloc and present himself as the chief ministerial face for the upcoming Maharashtra assembly elections, as per party leader Sanjay Raut. He is scheduled to meet Congress leaders Mallikarjun Kharge, Sonia Gandhi, Rahul Gandhi, besides NCP (SP) chief Sharad Pawar.

While Thackeray met Maharashtra Congress in-charge Ramesh Chennithala on Tuesday, he is likely to meet the others on Wednesday.

Raut said that Thackeray will meet all top leaders of Maha Vikas Aghadi (MVA) in Delhi and discuss the strategy for the upcoming assembly elections. He said that in the Lok Sabha elections, while the MVA had won 31 seats, the NDA could bag only 12 of the 48 Maharashtra seats.

"We want to repeat our performance in the state assembly elections and regain power. Therefore, the meeting among these top leaders is important," he added.

According to party sources, Thackeray is keen to declare himself as the chief minister's face for the elections.

Shiv Sena (UBT) may have got less seats than the Congress and NCP(SP) in Lok Sabha, but no one will deny that Uddhav Thackeray was the face of the campaign and his speeches were a hit among the people, who want him back as the CM, the sources said.

Maharashtra Congress in charge Ramesh Chennithala said that Thackeray's meeting with top leaders are scheduled, but the chief minister's face and post discussion does not figure on the agenda.

He said that official and unofficial discussion is ongoing. "Earlier in Mumbai, I met Sharad Pawar and Uddhav Thackeray as well. The present Maharashtra govt is very corrupt, and has to be dethroned," Chennithala added.

40% of under-5 kids underweight in Gujarat, shows Niti Aayog data

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

GUJARAT, one of the economically developed states in the country, ranks low on fighting hunger and improving nutrition among children, according to data released by NITI Aayog. The western state ranks 25th among Indian states on hunger index, says the 2023-24 Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) report released by NITI Aayog earlier this month. The policy think tank's data also reveals that 39.7% children under five in Gujarat are underweight.

SDG 2 aims to achieve zero hunger. It is one of the 17 SDGs established by the United Nations in 2015. Gujarat scored just 41 points on SDG 2 index, coming behind behind Odisha, Madhya Pradesh and 23 other states in hunger fight. SDG-2 index for Gujarat in 2020-21 was 46, and 41 in 2019-20. It was 49 in 2018, indicating a continuous decline in SDG-2 performance. Niti Aayog's data reveals that 39% children under five are stunted, 62.5% of pregnant women aged 15-49 are anaemic, and 25.2% of women in the same age group have a Body Mass Index below 18.5. The prevalence of underweight and stunted children, and anaemic women has increased compared to 2018 and 2019.

"With Gujarat's SDG-2 index dropping from 46 in 2020-21 to 41 in 2023-24, and with 39.7% of children under five being underweight and 62.5% of pregnant women anemic, achieving zero hunger by 2030 necessitates urgent and substantial investment in nutrition-focused initiatives," said Atman Shah, assistant professor in the department of Economics at St Xavier's College (autonomous) in Ahmedabad.

The 2023 MPI report revealed that nearly half of the rural Gujarat population was deprived of nutrition (44.45 per cent) and 28.97 per cent in urban areas.

Believe it or not! Bridge on farmland with no road

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

A bridge constructed on farmland with no road connectivity sounds bizarre but true. The bridge on farmland was constructed by the Road Construction Department of the Bihar government in Araria district. District Magistrate Inayat Khan on Tuesday ordered a probe into the construction of the bridge on farmland after the matter came to her notice.

When contacted, DM Khan said, "I have constituted a team of technical experts, who will visit the site to study the feasibility of the bridge. Further action will depend on the report of the experts' team, who are supposed to submit their report within a week."

DM Khan was also stunned to learn about the construction of the bridge on farmland, and that too with no road connectivity. Locals informed the district authorities that the bridge was constructed by the Road Construction Department about six months ago.

"How this happened is subject to investigation," said a senior administrative officer who is part of the probe team.

The DM swung into action after some residents of Parmanandpur village under Raniganj block complained that they had to face problems due to the construction of the bridge.

The residents alleged that they had to cover a distance of more than two kilometres to reach their farmland as a new bridge has been built with no road connectivity. "Now we demand from the department concerned to build an approach road and link the bridge with a main road," said Dipak Kumar, a resident of Parmanandpur village.

Sources in the Road Construction Department said that the bridge was to be constructed along with a 3.2 km long road. However, an assistant engineer of the Road Construction Department posted in Araria district, Manoj Kumar, said that it was not a bridge but a 'box culvert'.

The 'box culvert' is built to be used for bridging purposes and maintaining waterways. The structure was built under the Mukhya Mantri Gramin Sadak Yojna. The 'box culvert' is built on a proposed 3.2 km long metal road between Parmanandpur Lakshmisthan and Kopari border, he added.

The assistant engineer, however, claimed that the 'box culvert' would benefit over 1,500 people living in two neighbouring villages once it gets connected with the road. The cost of the bridge and the road is estimated to be about ₹3 crore. He admitted that about 200 metres of the road is on private land. "Because of this private land, the road connectivity of the bridge is incomplete. The department has started the process of reaching an amicable solution," he said. Manoj also claimed that the 'box culvert' has been built as per the norms of the department.

More than 230 pilgrims evacuated in Kedarnath as rescue ops enter day six

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

MORE than 230 stranded pilgrims were evacuated as rescue operations on the landslide-hit Kedarnath route in Uttarakhand continued for the sixth day on Tuesday, officials said. Though poor weather conditions and low visibility hindered the resumption of helicopter services, rescue efforts continued on foot.

"On Tuesday, a total of 231 pilgrims stranded at various locations were rescued despite adverse weather conditions. Helicopter services remained suspended due to heavy rainfall," said Nandan Singh Rajwar, Rudraprayag District Disaster Management Officer. "Four trained sniffer dogs, two each from the State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) and Indian Army relief teams, are assisting in locating devotees and travellers trapped in rocky terrains and inaccessible areas,"

Rajwar added. About 150 local residents were escorted from Kedarnath to Bhimbali by the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) and SDRF personnel. "Five SDRF teams comprising 60 personnel are currently deployed in Kedarghati for relief and search operations. As of Tuesday, a total of 12,006 pilgrims have been safely evacuated over the past six days," SDRF commandant Manikant Mishra said.

Additionally, an SDRF team conducted a drone-based search operation covering a 5-kilometer area along the Kedarnath pedestrian path. The SDRF team retrieved the body of a pilgrim from under the debris in Lincholi. The deceased, Gautam (28), a resident of Yamunanagar in Haryana, was found on Monday, taking the number of bodies recovered to four.

Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami said helicopter services to Kedarnath will resume on Wednesday and pilgrims will be given a 25 per cent concession on the fare.

He conducted an aerial inspection of the rain-ravaged Kedarnath trek route and reviewed the relief and rescue operation carried out over the past few days. The focus now is on restarting the pilgrimage to the Himalayan shrine by road at the earliest, the chief minister told reporters in Rampur.

"The damage is large-scale. The route has been breached at 29 places by landslides. Water and power supply lines have been hit and telecommunication disrupted," Dhami said.

"A collective effort by the disaster management department, the district administration, the SDRF, NDRF, the priest community and public representatives helped," he said.

5 teams deployed

Five SDRF teams comprising 60 personnel are currently deployed in Kedarghati for relief and search operations. As of Tuesday, a total of 12,006 pilgrims have been safely evacuated over the past six days," SDRF commandant Manikant Mishra said

24 burnt to death as mob sets fire to hotel in B'desh

After arson attack on the ground floor of the hotel owned by Awami League leader, fire spread to the top floors

DHAKA

OVER 100 people have been killed in Bangladesh after Sheikh Hasina resigned as prime minister and fled the country on Monday, according to media reports on Tuesday.

At least 109 people were killed in clashes in different parts of the country, including Dhaka on Monday, Bengali language daily Prothom Alo reported on Tuesday.

With this, the total death toll stood at 440 in 21 days from July 16 to yesterday, the paper reported. Thirty seven bodies were brought to the Dhaka Medical College Hospital on Monday, it added.

About 500 people were brought to the hospital with various injuries, including bullet injuries, hospital sources said.

The Dhaka Tribune newspaper reported that at least 18 people were killed in Savar and Dhamrai areas, on the outskirts of the capital, after clashes broke out between police and miscreants on Monday.

EU diplomats concerned about attack on Hindus

Dhaka: European Union diplomats in Bangladesh said they were "very concerned" about reports of attacks on businesses and homes owned by Hindus. The home of celebrated Hindu musician Rahul Ananda was also torched. The EU called for calm.

Meanwhile, at least 24 people, including an Indonesian national, were burnt alive by a mob hotel owned by a leader of Awami League party run by Sheikh Hasina, local journalists and hospital sources said on Tuesday.

The victims, mostly boarders, were burnt alive late on Monday night as the mob set afire Zabir International Hotel owned by district Awami League general secretary Shahin Chakkladar in Joshor district. "The dead included an Indonesian national," a local journalist said in Dhaka over phone. The doctors at Joshor General Hospital confirmed they counted up to 24 bodies while hotel staff feared more bodies could be found inside the debris, he added.

Media reports suggested the mob, opposed to the Awami League regime, set the ground floor of the hotel on fire which quickly spread to the upper floors. There were almost identical reports from across the country where the angry mob simultaneously vandalised residences and business establishments of many Awami League leaders and activists, including its central office in Bangabandhu Avenue in the capital.

Despite the violence there are signs of normalcy returning to the country. The situation in Dhaka was calm on Tuesday with public transport plying on streets. PTI

Fear grips govt staff, police in capital

DHAKA

ATTENDANCE at various government offices in Dhaka on Tuesday remained low amid growing fear and anxiety after the fall of the government, local media reported. On the first day after the fall of Hasina's government, a tense atmosphere prevailed at the Secretariat on Tuesday, the Dhaka Tribune newspaper reported.

Attendance in the ministry offices was significantly low, and ministers and Members of Parliament were notably absent. Those who did come to work were filled with fear and anxiety, the paper said.

It was reported that the central office of the Awami League on Bangabandhu Avenue was set on fire the previous night, with looting and vandalism taking place. The smell of the fire from the AL office in the morning could be felt in the Secretariat, increasing the fear among the officers and employees, the paper said. The Inter-Services Public Relations Directorate (ISPR) announced that a curfew would be in effect from midnight on Monday until 6 am on Tuesday.

Later, all government, semi-government, autonomous, semi-autonomous, private institutions, factories, schools, colleges, madrasas, and universities reopened on Tuesday morning.

Only a handful of police officers were seen on duty at the main gate of Secretariat, accompanied by army.

Bangladesh's key police association on Tuesday said its members were going on strike. "Until the security of every member of the police is secured, we are declaring a strike," the Bangladesh Police Association, which represents thousands of police officers, said in a statement, which also offered an apology for police actions against the protesters. PTI/AFP

BANKER TO THE POOR MAY LEAD THE COUNTRY

DHAKA

AMID the uncertainty in Bangladesh, one name has emerged that could take the reins in Bangladesh until fresh elections are announced: Muhammad Yunus, a Nobel laureate who is also known as the "banker to the poorest of the poor" and was once called a 'bloodsucker" by Hasina.

Md Yunus

Student leaders who organised the protests want Yunus, who is currently in Paris for the Olympics, to head an interim government. He could not immediately be reached for comment, but one student leader said Yunus has agreed to step in.

Yunus, 83, is a well-known critic and opponent of Hasina. He called her resignation the country's 'second liberation day.' An economist and banker by profession, Yunus was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 2006 for pioneering the use of microcredit to help impoverished people.

Yunus ran into trouble with Hasina in 2008 when her administration launched a series of investigations into him. He was put on trial in 2013 on charges of receiving money without government permission, including his Nobel Prize and royalties from a book.

Earlier this year, a special judge's court in Bangladesh indicted Yunus and 13 others on charges over a $2 million embezzlement case. Yunus pleaded not guilty and is out on bail for now. AP

MPC unlikely to begin rate cuts now

As the inflation still remains stubborn, the rate setting body may not even tweak the stance

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

DESPITE the rising chorus within the monetary policy committee (MPC) for slashing the interest rates and also change the policy stance, nobody is expecting the Reserve Bank-led rate setting panel to tweak the policy rates or even the stance because of the still stubborn inflation.

If the MPC, which began its three-day customary pre-policy review meeting on Tuesday here, leaves the rates unchanged, this will be the ninth consecutive time it does so, after it raised the key repo rate by 35 bps to 6.5% in the February 2023 review.

Two of the six-member MPC in the last policy meet in June had differed with the majority view to hold the rates as well as to retain the policy stance of withdrawal of accommodation. Jayant Verma and Ashima Goel are two of the three external members of the panel and are appointed by the government.

Status quo likely for ninth consecutive time

If the MPC, which began its three-day customary pre-policy review meeting on Tuesday, leaves the rates unchanged, this will be the ninth consecutive time it does so, after it raised the key repo rate by 35 bps to 6.5% in February 2023 review. Two of six-member MPC in last policy meet in June had differed with the majority view to hold the rates as well as to retain the policy stance of withdrawal of accommodation.

State Bank chairman Disneh Khara was vocal in saying he doesn't expect any changes in the policy on Thursday, saying growth remains strong and inflation, led by food articles are stubbornly high.

"There is no reason for the RBI to slash the rate now as its inflation is far from over. Moreover, the economy is faring robustly well. Most central banks are decoupling from themevles and act mostly according to the domestic situations," Khara told reporters at the post-earnings presser last Saturday.

However, he expects the RBI to do something more on the liquidity front as the system gets into the busy credit season now. Even fund managers and chief financial officers' polls by business channels also don't expect any changes in the policy rates. Retail inflation rose to 5.08% in June as against 4.8% in May, and remaining under the 5% mark since January due to higher food and beverage inflation. Core CPI rose to 3.13% from 3.07% in May. Both rural and urban inflation rates jmped in June, with rural inflation increasing to 5.66% and urban printing in at 4.39% in June.

In a pre-policy note, Soumyakanti Ghosh of SBI Research, said he expects CPI inflation to remain below or close to 5% in the remaining months, except for September and October. For the whole of FY25, CPI inflation is likely to average to 4.6-4.7%.

Bangladesh crisis: Indian firms keep track of situation

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIAN companies having operations in Bangladesh are analyzing the situation as demand has come to a halt following the student-led nationwide protest that toppled the 15-year rule of former Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina.

"We are evaluating the situation and will take a call if the uncertainty continues. There barely has been any demand in the last 2-3 weeks since the protests gathered momentum," said a top executive of a top Indian automobile company.

He added that auto sales in the nation were already under pressure due to a lack of economic growth and the current protests had made it worse, including temporary shutdowns of many factories. A Dabur spokesperson said they are monitoring the developments as it accounts for less than 1% of Dabur's consolidated revenue and less than 0.5% of its consolidated net profit. TVS Motor said though Bangladesh contributes to a minor share of its imports, sales in that country are facing challenges due to the ongoing protests. Shares of some of India's top companies such as Marico, Emami, VIP and Pearl Global Industries, which have exposure to Bangladesh, are under selling pressure. Shares of Marico plunged 6.5% on Tuesday to ₹628 apiece.

For FMCG major Marico, 11 % of revenue comes from Bangladesh. Emami's operations in Bangladesh are substantial as 6% of its total revenue comes from here. Top luggage company VIP Industries sources 30–35% of its production capacity from Bangladesh, an integral part of its supply chain. Pearl Global Industries, which derives around one-fourth of its revenue from Bangladesh, said its facilities there are temporarily non-operational due to the curfew.

Ola Electric IPO subscribed 4.26 times on final day of bidding

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

THE much-anticipated initial public offering (IPO) of Ola Electric was subscribed 4.26 times on the final day of bidding, receiving bids for 198.16 crore equity shares against 46.52 crore on offer. The low subscription level came despite the leading electric two-wheeler company's valuation eased to about $4 billion ahead of the ₹6,145 crore IPO.

Categories-wise, the heavy lifting was done by qualified institutional buyers (QIBs) and retail investors as their portion was subscribed 5.31 times and 3.86 times the allotted quota, respectively. The non-institutional investors (high networth individuals) bid 2.39 times the portion set aside for them. The portion set aside for employees was subscribed 11.66 times against the reserved portion.

Owing to low enthusiasm and rising volatility in the broader market, the grey market premium (GMP) of Ola Electric has fallen sharply in recent times, indicating a not-so-buoyant listing gain. Last checked, Ola Electric was commanding no premium in the unofficial market.

Brokerage firms and analysts too have mixed views on the IPO as they expect Ola Electric to incur losses. They are also not satisfied with the $4 billion valuation. The Bengaluru-based reported a net loss of ₹1,584.40 crore with a revenue of ₹5,243.27 crore for the financial year ended on March 31, 2024. Ola Electric is demanding an EV/sales multiple of 6.3 times, which is at a significant premium, said Choice Broking in a note. It added that key concern for the company is its reliance on government subsidies for generating sales and its loss-making operations.

Vedanta profit surges 37% to ₹3,606 crore on better margins

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU@ New Delhi

VEDANTA Ltd on Tuesday reported a 36.5% increase in consolidated net profit at ₹3,606 crore for the quarter ended June 30, 2024, due to improved margins and robust cost reduction across all operations.

It had posted a net profit of ₹2,640 crore in the year-ago period. The consolidated income of the company in the April-June period rose to ₹36,698 crore over ₹34,279 crore in the year-ago period, according to an exchange filing. Vedanta said in a statement that the proposed demerger of its businesses is on track and it has already filed the demerger scheme with NCLT after getting a nod from secured creditors.

Vedanta's earlier announced to split into six independent listed companies, including oil and gas and aluminium.

Vedanta Ltd executive director Arun Misra said the company has delivered a strong start to the year, with exceptional EBITDA improvement of 47 per cent and PAT improvement by 54 per cent year-over-year on the back of improved margins, and robust cost reduction across all operations.

"Our aluminium and zinc divisions continue to outperform industry benchmarks, consistently ranking in the top quartiles and deciles of the global cost curve. These achievements are a direct result of our strategic focus on cost, as reflected in a 20 per cent year-over-year reduction in overall cost," he said. "Moving ahead, our focus on operational efficiency, sustained expansion, and ESG excellence will guide our journey. With this dedication, we are confident in our ability to create substantial shareholder value in the year ahead," he added.

Govt will not retract tax demand of ₹32,000 crore against Infosys: Official

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

A senior official has confirmed that the Indian government will not retract the tax demand of ₹32,000 crore against IT giant Infosys, citing strong evidence in the case related to goods and services tax (GST).

The official stated, "The government is firm in its decision. The law will take its own course. If there is a demand, then the company would have to settle it." Additionally, other companies with foreign branches may also face similar tax demands. Recently, Infosys received partial relief from the Directorate General of GST Intelligence (DGGI) regarding allegations of tax evasion linked to free services provided by its foreign subsidiaries. However, this relief was granted on technical grounds, as the tax demand can't exceed a five-year limit.

The demand was issued by the DGGI on July 31, claiming tax evasion that exceeds ₹32,000 crore. Following this, Infosys announced that the Karnataka state authorities had withdrawn a pre-show cause notice issued the same day and requested additional information from the company for the DGGI's review.

In its defence, Infosys has stated that it has settled all its GST payments and contends that the DGGI's claims do not pertain to its legitimate expenses. The company emphasised its compliance with all applicable central and state regulations in a filing on July 31. The pre-show cause notice came shortly after media reports surfaced regarding the Karnataka state GST authorities' notice on the same matter, as disclosed by Infosys in its July 31 filing.

ASIANOMICS

THE PHILIPPINES

INFLATION UP AS CENTRAL BANK PREPARES TO CUT RATES

Philippine central bank Governor Eli Remolona has said there is a chance for a rate cut next week as the July inflation breached target and hit a nine-month high. Consumer prices rose 4.4% year-on-year last month on higher utility costs. It surpassed the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' (BSP) target for the first time this year. The central bank had estimated inflation last month to come in between 4% and 4.8% on higher power and food costs. The governor said policymakers would consider a rate cut if second-quarter economic growth, due on August 8, would be "unexpectedly weak" and if inflation and inflation expectations show a downward path. The central bank chief had telegraphed the potential of lowering borrowing costs from a 17-year-high this month as early as May, citing easing price risks.

JAPAN

REAL WAGES RISE IN JUNE FOR FIRST TIME IN 27 MONTHS

The inflation-adjusted real wages in Japan rose in June for the first time in 27 months and nominal pay gained at the strongest pace in 27 years, led by higher bonuses as more firms raise wages. The Bank of Japan last week raised rates to levels unseen in 15 years and unveiled a detailed plan to slow its massive bond buying. Broadening wage hikes and rising services prices were behind such moves. Real wages grew 1.1% in June, rising for the first time in 27 months, after a revised 1.3% slip in May, data from the labour ministry showed. Nominal wages, the average total cash earnings per worker, grew 4.5%, the fastest pace of growth since January 1997, to 498,884 yen , as against a revised 2.0% rise in May. Special payments rose 7.6% in June, after a revised 0.1% growth in the previous month.

INDONESIA

ECONOMY GREW 5.05% IN Q2

The economy of Indonesia grew 5.05% in April-June period from a year earlier, the country's statistics agency said on Monday. The second-quarter expansion of the economy shrank from 5.11% in January-March, and was lower than 5.17% in the same period of 2023. Bank Indonesia, the central bank, said last month that growth in the second quarter of 2024 had been supported by increased household consumption and investment. Household consumption, which makes up half the Indonesian economy, rose 4.93%, thanks to growth in the transportation and hospitality sectors. Second-quarter growth was supported by spending during religious and school holidays, Statistics Indonesia deputy head Mohammad Edy Mahmud said during a news conference on Monday.

TVS Motor Q1 profit rises 6% to ₹461 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TVS Motor Company on Tuesday said its consolidated net profit increased 6% to ₹461 crore for the first quarter ended June 30, 2024, riding on the back of robust sales.

It had posted a net profit of ₹434 crore in the same quarter of last fiscal. The company's total income rose to ₹10,448 crore for the period under review as compared to ₹9,142 crore in the year-ago period, TVS Motor Company said in a regulatory filing. On a standalone basis, it posted a profit after tax of ₹577 crore for the first quarter as compared to ₹468 crore in the June quarter of the last fiscal, it added. Total income rose to ₹8,412 crore for the first quarter as against ₹7,275 crore in the year-ago period.

The company said its overall two-wheeler and three-wheeler sales including exports grew 14% year-on-year, registering sales of 10.87 lakh units in the quarter as against 9.53 lakh units registered in the quarter ended June 2023. Motorcycle sales grew by 11 per cent year on year at 5.14 lakh units in the first quarter as against 4.63 lakh units in the same period last fiscal. Scooter sales grew by 19% YoY to 4.18 lakh units in the April-June quarter this year.

Early signs of tariff hike encouraging, no major impact on telecom users: Vittal

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE early signs of the tariff hike by telecom service providers are encouraging, and it has not had a significant impact on telecom subscribers, said Gopal Vittal, managing director of Bharti Airtel, on Tuesday.

Vittal, speaking during the company's first quarterly earnings call, noted that there was no major SIM consolidation following the tariff hike in July 2024, except for a slight impact at the lower end of the market, particularly among 2G users.

"The industry undertook a round of tariff hike in early July 2024, which was much needed for the financial health of the industry. The early signs from this repair are encouraging... I do want to underscore that the industry needs a minimum ₹300 ARPU (average revenue per user) for long term, sustainable investment, and respectable return ratios," said Vittal.

In July 2024, all three major private telcos —Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel, and Vodafone Idea — announced tariff hikes ranging 10% to 25%. The last such raise occurred in November 2021. This time, Jio led with the tariff increase of 12-25%, followed by Airtel with hikes ranging from 11% to 21% across its prepaid and postpaid plans. Vodafone Idea raised tariffs by 10-23%. "We've noticed some SIM consolidation happening at the lower end of the market, particularly among 2G user base. However, the SIM consolidation we've seen so far has been modest. Only time will tell how things play out," Vittal said.

As per Vittal, 5G monetisation remains a challenge and there are no major global use cases beyond fixed wireless access (FWA). Airtel plans to launch a standalone 5G network to support its FWA broadband service in August-September. It will use the standalone network for this purpose.

Xiaomi leads Indian smartphone market, Samsung comes next

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

CHINESE mobilemaker Xiaomi dominated the Indian smartphone market in Q2 of 2024, capturing 19.3% share, followed by Samsung and Vivo with 18.5% and 17% shares, respectively.

As per a report by CyberMedia Research (CMR), Realme and OPPO secured the fourth and fifth spots with 13% and 9% shares, respectively. Apple made its mark with a 5% share, driven by popularity of its iPhone 15 series, which accounted for 58% of its total shipments. Despite these gains, the Indian smartphone market experienced a 4% year-on-year decline, signalling a challenging landscape for manufacturers.

"The Indian smartphone market is flourishing with a surge in 5G adoption and an increasing shift towards premium devices. Availability of affordable 5G phones in the ₹10,000 to ₹13,000 range has propelled market growth. Additionally, premiumisation trend continues, with the premium segment (above ₹25,000) seeing a 9% YoY growth," said Menka Kumari, Analyst at the Industry Intelligence Group, CMR.

The share of 5G smartphone shipments rise to 79%, a 56% YoY growth. Vivo led 5G smartphone market with a 21% share, followed by Samsung at 20%. During the quarter, 5G smartphones priced between ₹10,000 and ₹13,000 grew 200% YoY.

The affordable smartphone segment (below ₹7,000) faced challenges, with a 26% YoY fall. This shift reflects a growing consumer preference for more feature-rich options. The value-for-money segment (₹7,000 to ₹25,000) led the market with a commanding 71% share, underscoring consumer demand for high-quality devices at accessible prices.

Repco Home Fin net profit up 18% at ₹105 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

REPCO Home Finance has reported 18% net profit at ₹105 crore for the first quarter of the current financial year as compared to ₹89 crore in the same quarter a year ago.

Net interest income stood at ₹175 crore as against ₹162 crore in Q1FY24, a healthy growth of 8%. Total income stood at ₹416 crore as compared to ₹367 crore, registering a growth of 13.6%.

Loans sanctions stood at ₹727 crore as against ₹726 crore, a growth of 0.2%. Return on assets stood at 3.1%, a return on equity of 16.3% as against 2.8% and 15.8%, respectively. Overall loan book stood at ₹13,701 crore at the end of June 30 2024, as against ₹12,655 crore a year ago, a growth of 8.3%.

The AUM was ₹13,513 crore as of March 31, 2024. As of June 30, 2024, loans to the non-salaried segment accounted for 51.6% of the outstanding loan book and loans for salaried segment accounts for 48.4% of loan book.

Zepto to move headquarters to B'luru from Mum

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

QUICK commerce start-up Zepto is relocating its headquarters to Bengaluru from Mumbai. As per sources, Zepto will consolidate its operations, and is searching for a bigger facility around Sarjapur in Bengaluru. Its employees based in Mumbai will also relocate to Bengaluru. Sources added that the company has been flexible and final relocation will happen in the beginning of next year.

The company has been operating two offices in India — Mumbai and Bengaluru. As it is expanding, 500 new hires will be joining the Bengaluru campus soon in addition to employees in Mumbai, and Zepto will shift to a bigger facility.

As per Tracxn, it has over 1,700 employees. Sources said about 1,000 employees are based out of Mumbai. Currently, both tech and product teams are in Bengaluru. In June this year, Zepto raised $665 million at a $3.6 billion valuation, more than double from its last valuation. The start-up has been hiring top talent across engineering, product, growth, finance, operations, and category management.

Ratna Mehta, CEO and Managing Partner, Fundalogical Ventures, said the investor community in Bengaluru is vibrant, so anyone looking for venture capital will be able to understand roadshows close to home and the support ecosystem post investment is also robust.

Known as the start-up capital with over 26,000 active start-ups, Bengaluru offers access to unique talent and about 40% of the country's unicorns, contributing to its status as the talent capital for enterprise-ready talent in India, said Vikram Ahuja, co-founder ANSR, CEO Talent500 and ANSR Research. "This combination of diverse industries and exceptional talent makes Bengaluru a key draw for organisations aiming to build scale, drive transformation, and achieve value multiplication," he added.

Hocker upsets favourites to win gold

American Cole Hocker produced a devastating finish in the home straight for an upset victory in the men's Olympic 1500m. Hocker outsprinted defending champion Jakob Ingebrigtsen and world champion Josh Kerr to take gold in an Olympic record of 3min 27.65sec.

MAT-AMORPHOSIS

Leaving behind her recent turmoil, Vinesh stuns reigning champ before winning next two bouts to assure herself of at least silver. She now has the chance of becoming the 1st Indian woman to win gold at the Olympics

UNIMAGINABLE would be an understatement. Fifteen seconds and destiny took a providential turn. A new chapter will begin in her life. She was fighting against odds, nay all odds. Those seconds turned wrestler Vinesh Phogat into a world icon, a face of the Paris Games. Thinking of the tumultuous past months she had to endure, the victory seemed preposterously insane.

From being dragged on the streets of Delhi to being assured of an Olympic medal this is magical. And it was her impenetrable defence throughout the day which took her into the 50kg final. The Champ-de-Mars Arena is within walking distance from the Eiffel Tower. If at all someone would have matched the symbol of that architectural splendour on Tuesday, it would be Vinesh's feat.

Victories are not scripted on the mat or playing field alone. They are planned in the backroom and in the head. It is not always that all strategies are executed to the T. Most times they fail, especially against tougher opponents. What seems astounding is Vinesh's strong mind. All the while when the world thought it was impossible, she never believed that she could lose.

When Vinesh lifted her hands in jubilation after an improbable victory, her opponent, Japan's Yui Susaki, stood there stunned. Susaki challenged the two points awarded to Vinesh for a takedown but was turned down. One more point to Vinesh.

SUSAKI'S RECORD BEFORE THAT VINESH BOUT

International match wins 82-0

733-34 Aggregate score over last 10 years

21-0 (streak across all Worlds and Olympics)

The hall was stunned. As reality sank in, the 29-year-old Indian wrestler ran to her coach Woller Akos with whom she has been training since 2018. The gold she is chasing is now a reality. After the win, she languidly walked past the waiting media without speaking. Vinesh is always considered a fighter, one who has perfected the art of comeback. She had to be stretchered off from the Rio Games mat after hurting her knee. The anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) sidelined her for a while. She sauntered back into competitions and won the world championships bronze in 2019 and then again in 2022. But all in her pet 53kg. Now after the protests last year, she is back living an Olympic dream. She has an Asian Games gold too. The only medal missing was at the Olympics.

Susaki is a 50kg legend. Her stats at the Olympics speak of it. She was the overwhelming favourite. Susaki has been a world champion from U17. She simply did not lose. Vinesh's strategy was to defend until the final few seconds. Call it overconfidence or complacent Susaki made a mistake. When Vinesh attacked she did not know how to defend. She was low and Vinesh grabbed her chance and she won't let this go. The takedown was enough to give her two points and a victory. One point was added after Susaki unsuccessfully challenged it. The 2022 worlds bronze medallist then beat Oksana Livach of Ukraine 7-5 before registering a 5-0 win over Yusneylis Lopez of Cuba in the semis.

Vinesh needed these wins. She led the protest against former Wrestling Federation of India president and powerful political leader Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh. A section of the masses ridiculed and humiliated her as well.

Earlier, the strategy was simple. Patience turned into a virtue. All of five and a half minutes in the first bout, Vinesh was looking like Susaki's understudy. She was docked points for passivity. In the context of the final standing that did not matter. Keep distance, keep defending and when the time comes go for the kill. With 15 seconds left, she charged towards her, a counter-attack as she needed the points. It stunned Susaki. Probably due to so many wins, defence seemed not her potent weapon. A takedown by Vinesh left her sobbing. When the draw was released, talks revolved around repechage. How Vinesh's draw would help her secure bronze. Susaki was apologetic about her loss. "This Olympics wasn't just about me," she sounded broken. About 10km away Neeraj Chopra acknowledged the enormity of the occasion. "This is a big win for her especially after what she has gone through in the past," he said. "Hope she wins a medal."

The Indian camp was downcast after Lakshya Sen's loss. Nisha's injury during her bout after leading 8-1 added to the woes of the wrestling team.

However, Vinesh's exploits will give confidence to those whose events haven't started yet. Like the 2020 Olympics, the last few days could turn India's fortunes and lift the medals tally beyond Tokyo's seven.

Final remains elusive but India set sight on bronze

INDRANEEL DAS @ Paris

Indian players down on their knees as Germany celebrate their 3-2 win | AP

IT was electric inside the Yves du Manoir hockey stadium. And most of the electricity was coming thanks to surging Indian forward runs. Against world champions Germany, India took the game to the opposition, won loads of penalty corners, got their gameplan right... in fact they were perfect for vast swathes of the match. But, when they wake up on Wednesday morning, it will be filled with regret.

They somehow lost 2-3. Now, they have the chance to beat Spain and retain the bronze they won in Tokyo.

India dominated for large parts of the match, especially in the first three quarters. They forced Germany back so much that they were playing on the counter. In the fourth quarter, things changed. Germany found that bit extra in their feet and started attacking a bit more. After struggling for penetration in the first three quarters, they started to find a wee bit of space. It told as a sweeping move was diverted goalwards by Marco Miltkau from close range. PR Sreejesh tried his best to keep it out but it beat his effort. After that, India had no choice but to go with 11 outfielders. They came oh so close at the end but a long-range strike agonisingly went over the bar before the final hooter cut through the air.

The evening sun was still beating down as the game started. At stake for India was more history; a final for the first time since winning gold in 1980 in Moscow. The start saw India attacking down both flanks. What yielded more penetration was from the right. India dominated the first five minutes. A flurry of penalty corners ensued. India finally converted through the dependable Harmanpreet Singh.

India sensed that their opponents were there for the taking. Soon after going 1-0 up, Harmanpreet had another opportunity from the dead ball but he missed the target. But the one thing this German side are well equipped with is to stay in the game, drag it out and catch the opponent cold. That's what happened when Gonzalo Peillat scored from a penalty corner to restore parity. India still created chances from open play but the wily Germany went up the other hand and created another penalty corner. A video referral later, they were awarded a stroke which Christopher Ruhr converted.

But this iteration of the Indian side don't die wondering. This team does not lack in belief. They were convinced that an equaliser was around the corner. It came via another pc, this time from the stick of Sukhjeet Singh. As soon as they levelled, the venue exploded. The chants changed to 'Indiaaaaa, India'. Post that goal, Germany did well to take the sting out of the game. India are at their most dangerous so they were happy to concede possession of the ball in dangerous areas. When the last stanza began, they went on the offensive as they earned four penalty corners in a six-minute period.

India also seemed to be a tad slow to close down. And then came the sucker punch as Miltkau deflected the ball home. This loss will hurt but with another important match, they can go back home with a shiny metal disc around their necks.

Neeraj qualifies with an effortless 89.34m throw

INDRANEEL DAS @ Paris

Neeraj Chopra | PTI

IT'S always a bit crazy inside the athletics stadium. The sport itself is considered the Blue Riband event of the Olympics, just like swimming and gymnastics. While the last two are confined to indoors, athletics is held outdoors. True to its grandeur, it is assigned to the best quarters.

Here in Paris, the grand Stade de France, a place that's more than just a cathedral of sports, is hosting the events. As soon as one walks into the stadium, the purple Mondo tracks stare straight at you. The newly-laid track has created as much hype around its fast air-bubble sandwiched base, its speed as the athletics event itself. One Mondo Duplantis had the most sublime moment on Monday when he created a world record with 6.25m in pole vault final. The performance was like Beethovan's Symphony No 9 enjoyable and flawless; something that touches the heart. The next best, Sam Kendricks at 5.95m, vault underlines the US-born Swede's supremacy. He exorcised the ghost of Tokyo 2020 when he was quarantined after testing positive. That's in the past. For India, athletics is all about the one man -- Olympic and world champion Neeraj Chopra. He almost vanished from international competition after the Paavo Nurmi Games in Turku in June. His last major competition before that was at the Doha Diamond League, where he began his season. His best was 88.36m there. Coming into the Olympics, he had a bit of an issue with the abductor muscles. However, here he seemed fit. Neeraj said he was mindful of that and that's why he keeps it warm. "I have that in mind and warm up properly," he said. "That's why I came here in Paris (early) warmed up for a few days and then I came inside and started."

He needed just one throw. The 26-year-old effortlessly sent the javelin way beyond the 84m qualification mark. The digital screen flashed 89.34m – his season's best. The elusive 90m just a few centimetres away and he could well be on way to breach it in the final on Thursday. He was the leading thrower in both the groups. Close behind him was Anderson Peters who hurled the spear to 88.63m. And Pakistan's Arshad Nadeem had 86.59m. The qualification distances promise a titillating final. In Group A, Julian Weber had a 87.76m and Julius Yego had 85.97m in the same group. India's Kishore Jenna missed out qualification with another disappointing throw of 80.73m. "Because in the qualification round and in the final, everyone has a different mindset," said Neeraj. "We should focus on the fact that we started well and will be better prepared for the final. When the competition started, we wanted to qualify with good throws. Our target was to qualify with our first throw," he said. Thursday will be different with all competitors trying to win medals. Even the conditions because it will be held in the evening. Getting his first throw well has always been Neeraj's effort but it may not happen like in Doha DL. "I try to be good in the first attempt but it doesn't always happen."

After Vinesh Phogat's stupefying performance on the mat, the 1.4 billion souls would be praying for a second gold on Thursday.

Indian wrestler Antim Panghal will take on Zeynep Yetgil of Turkey in the opening round of 53kg weight category on Wednesday. Antim, 19, who is making her debut at the Games, has got a favourable draw as other medal contenders in the weight category - Akari Fujinami of Japan and Emma Malmgren of Sweden - have been drawn in other group. Antim was the first Indian wrestler to secure an Olympic quota when she won a bronze medal in 2023 Worlds.

A Sharath Kamal might have played his last Olympic game on Tuesday | PTI

VETERAN Achanta Sharath Kamal showed resistance but India suffered a 0-3 loss to mighty China in the pre-quarterfinals, which also ended their campaign in the men's table tennis team event at the Paris Olympics here on Tuesday. The Indian duo of Harmeet Desai and Manav Thakkar lost the opening doubles match 2-11 3-11 7-11 to the Chinese pair of the legendary Ma Long and Chuqin Wang.

Playing Fan Zhendong in the first singles, Sharath took the first game 11-9 with a superlative display. But the Chinese regrouped to outwit the Indian 11-7 11-7 11-5 in the next three games as India fell 0-2 behind in the tie.

The 24-year-old Manav then played the second singles but found the going tough against Chuqin, losing 9-11 6-11 9-11.

On Monday, the Indian women's team comprising Manika Batra, Sreeja Akula and Archana Kamat, prevailed over higher-ranked Romania 3-2 in a thrilling tie to enter the quarterfinals. The women's team will be up against Germany in the last eight contest on Wednesday.

Karthik becomes 1st Indian player in SA20

Former wicketkeeper batter Dinesh Karthik was signed by Paarl Royals for the third season of the SA20, making him the first Indian to play in the South African league. Karthik retired from all forms of cricket in June. "I have so many fond memories of playing and visiting South Africa, When this opportunity came about, I couldn't say no," said Karthik.

DUPLANTIS TOUCHES THE SKY

American-born Swedish pole vaulter broke his own world record with a 6.25m jump at Stade de France on Monday

THE pole vaulter they call "Mondo" really can put on a show. With the rest of the action at the Olympic track wrapped up for the evening and the crowd of 80,000 at the Stade de France still on their feet, Armand Duplantis rested the pole on his right shoulder and took a deep breath. Then, he lifted up that long piece of carbon fiber and took off down the runway and into the night sky.

Another Olympic gold medal already was his. When he came crashing down into the padding on the other side of that sky-high, pink-tinted bar, so was another world record. Duplantis, the Louisiana-born 24-year-old who competes for his mother's native Sweden, cleared 6.25 meters (20 feet, 6 inches) to break the world record for the ninth time — but the first time on his sport's grandest stage.

His next move was a sprint to the stands to hug his girlfriend and celebrate his record and second Olympic gold with all those friends and family wearing yellow and blue. The country's king and queen were on hand, as well, to witness Sweden's latest history-making leap into the pole vault pit. "It's hard to understand, honestly," he said. "If I don't beat this moment in my career, then I'm pretty OK with that. I don't think you can get much better than what just happened."

By winning a second straight gold medal and breaking the record for the ninth time — each time by one centimeter — Duplantis is now next to, if not above, Sergei Bubka as the greatest ever in this event. Duplantis is in the conversation with America's Ryan Crouser, a world-record holder and three-time gold medalist in shot put, as among the most dominant athletes on the field side of this sport.

And when it comes to delivering great theatre, as he showed once again in Paris, Duplantis is in a class of his own. After he sealed the victory over American Sam Kendricks, then captured the Olympic record by clearing 6.10 meters, Duplantis had the bar moved to one centimeter higher than the world-record height.

Following his first miss, he used a break while Noah Lyles was receiving the gold medal for his 100-meter victory, to study video on a tablet with his parents, who met decades ago while they were both on the LSU track and field team. Another miss ensued, then another long break. The fans clapped in rhythm and sang along to the French song "Alleur de Feu" — "Light the Fire" — getting ready for Mondo's leap into history. A home-grown talent, Duplantis learned this sport on a pole vault pit his parents dug in their back yard in Lafayette, Louisiana. During long afternoons of jumping in that pit, Duplantis often envisioned himself going for a world record on his last jump at the Olympics. Maybe not in the equation — the parties that world record and Olympic title would set off. An hour after the stadium cleared, the song "Dancing Queen" by the Swedish group ABBA was playing loud and proud outside the stadium.

"For it to actually happen the way that it did and for me to put the right jump together at the right time, it's just, like, how do you explain it?" he said. "It's bigger than words for me." AP

CAN INDIA AVOID SERIES DEFEAT?

Rohit Sharma and co. have one chance to level ODI series in Sri Lanka on Wednesday. A look...

WILL OTHER BATTERS STEP UP?

Among the top five batters, Rohit has been the saving grace, continuing what he did in the home WC. Others, from Shubman Gill to Virat Kohli to Shreyas Iyer and KL Rahul, will have to come to the party for India to win the match.

3rd ODI: Sri Lanka vs India, 2.30 PM
Live on Sony Sports Network

CHANCE FOR ASALANKA

They have not played perfect cricket, nor they have played their best. And yet Charith Asalanka's team has persisted and found India on the ropes more than once. On Wednesday, they have a chance to win the series and make a statement. Can they?

EYES ON SIRAJ AND ARSHDEEP

While the surface has been slow, and spinners have taken the heavier workload, Mohammed Siraj and Arshdeep Singh have not been able to impose their pace and craft on Sri Lanka to make an impact. For India to finish the tour on a high, they will have to do a lot more.

Thailand's Moriya wins LPGA Portland Classic

LOS ANGELES: Thailand's Moriya Jutanugarn won her third career LPGA title on Sunday, going bogey-free for 71 holes to capture the Portland Classic by two strokes. Moriya fired a six-under par 66 despite closing with her only bogey of the event to stand on 22-under 266 after 72 holes at Columbia Edgewater Country Club in Oregon. "Every win is special," Moriya said. "It has kind of been a long time since my last win."

THE origins of life remain a major mystery. How were complex molecules able to form and remain intact for prolonged periods without disintegrating? A team at ORIGINS, a Munich-based Cluster of Excellence, has demonstrated a mechanism that could have enabled the first RNA molecules to stabilise in the primordial soup. When two RNA strands combine, their stability and lifespan increase significantly.

SCIENTISTS DISCOVER NEW INSIGHTS INTO THE ORIGINS OF LIFE

STABILITY OF THE FIRST MOLECULES

In all likelihood, life on Earth began in water, perhaps in a tide pool that was cut off from seawater at low tide but flooded by waves at high tide. Over billions of years, complex molecules like DNA, RNA and proteins formed in this setting before, ultimately, the first cells emerged.

To date, however, nobody has been able to explain exactly how this happened. "We know which molecules existed on the early Earth," says Job Boekhoven, Professor of Supramolecular Chemistry at the Technical University of Munich (TUM).

"The question is: Can we use this to replicate the origins of life in the lab?" The team led by Boekhoven at the ORIGINS Cluster of Excellence is primarily interested in RNA. "RNA is a fascinating molecule," says Boekhoven. "It can store information and also catalyse biochemical reactions." Scientists, therefore, believe that RNA must have been the first of all complex molecules to form.

The problem, however, is that active RNA molecules are composed of hundreds or even thousands of bases and are very unstable. When immersed in water, RNA strands quickly break down into their constituent parts – a process known as hydrolysis. So, how could RNA have survived in the primordial soup?

Double strands in the primordial soup

In lab testing, the researchers from TUM and LMU used a model system of RNA bases that join together more easily than naturally occurring bases in our cells today. "We didn't have millions of years available and wanted an answer quickly," explains Boekhoven. The team added these fast-joining RNA bases into a watery solution, provided an energy source and examined the length of the RNA molecules that formed. Their findings were sobering, as the resulting strands of up to five base pairs only survived for a matter of minutes.

The results were different, however, when the researchers started by adding short strands of pre-formed RNA. The free complementary bases quickly joined with this RNA in a process called hybridization. Double strands of three to five base pairs in length formed and remained stable for several hours. "The exciting part is that double strands lead to RNA folding, which can make the RNA catalytically active," explains Boekhoven. Double-stranded RNA therefore has two advantages: it has an extended lifespan in the primordial soup and serves as the basis for catalytically active RNA.

But how could a double strand have formed in the primordial soup? "We're currently exploring whether it's possible for RNAs to form their own complementary strand," says Boekhoven. It is conceivable for a molecule comprising three bases to join with a molecule comprising three complementary bases – the product of which would be a stable double-strand. Thanks to its prolonged lifespan, further bases could join with it and the strand would grow.

Evolutionary advantage for protocells

Another characteristic of double-stranded RNA could have helped bring about the origin of life. It is firstly important to note that RNA molecules can also form protocells. These are tiny droplets with an interior fully separated from the outside world. Yet, these protocells do not have a stable cell membrane and so easily merge with other protocells, which causes their contents to mix. This is not conducive to evolution because it prevents individual protocells from developing a unique identity.

However, if the borders of these protocells are composed of double-stranded DNA, the cells become more stable and merging is inhibited.

Applicable to medicine

In the future, Job Boekhoven hopes to further improve understanding of the formation and stabilization of the first RNA molecules. "Some people regard this research as a sort of hobby. During the Covid-19 pandemic, though, everyone saw how important RNA molecules can be, including for vaccines," says Boekhoven. "So, while our research is striving to answer one of the oldest questions in science, that's not all: we're also generating knowledge about RNA that could benefit many people today."

WHEN LIFE BEGAN

Although the exact process by which life formed on Earth is not well understood, the origin of life requires the presence of carbon-based molecules, liquid water and an energy source. Because some Near-Earth Objects contain carbon-based molecules and water ice, collisions of these object with Earth have significant agents of biologic as well as geologic change. According to NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, for the first billion years of Earth's existence, the formation of life was prevented by a fusillade of comet and asteroid impacts that rendered the Earth's surface too hot to allow the existence of sufficient quantities of water and carbon-based molecules. Life on Earth began at the end of this period called the late heavy bombardment, some 3.8 billion years ago. The earliest known fossils on Earth date from 3.5 billion years ago and there is evidence that biological activity took place even earlier - just at the end f the period of late heavy bombardment. So the window when life began was very short.

LEO SZILARD

Atomic beginnings

POOJA K

Hungarian-American physicist and inventor Leo Szilard played a prominent role in conducting the first sustained nuclear chain reaction, which was a pivotal breakthrough in the field of nuclear physics. Later, this concept of sustained nuclear chain reaction played a significant role in the development of nuclear weapons and nuclear energy. Born on February 11, 1898, Szilard majored in physics and engineering at the Technical University of Budapest. He received his PhD from the University of Berlin, and later joined its Institute of Theoretical Physics. When Nazis took over in 1933, Szilard moved to Vienna. Later, he shifted to London, and joined the physics faculty at the medical college of St Bartholomew's Hospital. Here, he joined British physicist TA Chalmers to develop the first method of separating isotopes. In 1939, Szilard and Eugene Wigner identified the potential for creation of a nuclear chain reaction. He then persuaded Albert Einstein to inform the US Government, and wrote to President Franklin D Roosevelt about the potential of nuclear weapons and urged the US to begin nuclear energy research. From 1942, until the war ended, Szilard, with fellow physicist Enrico Fermi, conducted the first controlled chain reaction (nuclear reactor) at the University of Chicago. This experiment, termed 'Chicago Pile-2', demonstrated the feasibility of nuclear fission as a potential energy source that helped in creating powerful nuclear weapons. Szilard also played a key role in the 'Manhattan Project', a top-secret US government programme during World War II to create the atomic bomb, which proved devastating, yet decisive in ending the war.

Following the controversy in women's boxing at the Olympics, CE examines challenges faced by female athletes who defy traditional notions of femininity

PICS: AFP

PACKING A PUNCH

Dutee Chand (left) at a relay event in 2017

DESE GOWDA

ALGERIAN boxer Imane Khelif is set to return home from the ongoing Paris Summer Olympics with at least a podium finish after progressing to the semi-finals last weekend. However, her journey was anything but straightforward. She won her first match against Italy's Angela Carini when the latter forfeited after just 46 seconds, citing pain from a hard punch by Khelif. Social media speculation about Khelif's gender immediately followed, with accusations that she was not biologically female, referencing her disqualification last year by the International Boxing Association. While the International Olympic Committee does not test athletes for gender, it has affirmed that Khelif is eligible to compete. No medical evidence suggesting that Khelif is not biologically female or has elevated testosterone levels has been published. Khelif was born female and identifies so.

This incident parallels the experiences of Indian athletes Dutee Chand and Mary Kom. Chand, a sprinter, faced controversy over hyperandrogenism and fought a legal battle to overturn a ban. Kom, a legendary boxer, has navigated gender expectations in sport, proving her mettle despite doubts and biases about her physique and strength. Both athletes have become symbols of resilience, breaking barriers for women in sport.

Deepthi Bopaiah, CEO of GoSports Foundation, which supports aspirants for the Olympics, emphasises the importance of fair play and inclusivity. "If a person has been biologically certified as female but has a condition with higher testosterone, that's something natural within the body, not something artificially created. Discrimination based on that is a concern," she says. She highlights the struggles faced by athletes like Chand, who had to endure intense legal battles and public scrutiny. "The impact on mental well-being is enormous, especially when society expects women to be strong yet delicate. This expectation is ridiculous, particularly in contact sports where training and natural physiology play significant roles," she says.

Bopaiah also addresses the unrealistic expectation for female athletes to be both strong and traditionally beautiful. "Female athletes often face this contradictory expectation. This issue isn't just confined to sport; it's seen in the corporate world too. Assertive women are often labelled as bossy," she points out.

Yasmeen Shaikh, a badminton player, emphasises the need for consistent guidelines across governing bodies. "The conversation is now moving toward doing certain tests, which expose these players to uncomfortable procedures that can have a psychological impact and long-lasting effects," she says. Shaikh criticises the inconsistent treatment of female athletes by different organisations. "Men are not questioned in the same way; they are celebrated. But when it comes to female athletes who are winning and showing strength, these issues arise. There's no straightforward answer, but the inconsistency between bodies like the World Championship, the IBA, and the Olympics Association is a major part of the problem," she says.

Shaikh also calls for a focus on talent and performance rather than conforming to traditional images of femininity. "Sport should be seen for what it is, not based on whether someone fits a traditional image of femininity. Talent and ability should be the focus. If an athlete's testosterone levels are within the accepted range, it should be enough. It's unfair to subject them to further scrutiny based on their appearance," she argues.

Meanwhile, experts say that female athletes training for elite sports, especially in disciplines like boxing and wrestling, can naturally produce more androgen due to their high protein intake and rigorous training regimens. While this increase is beneficial for muscle and bone density, it can also inhibit natural biological processes, making reproductive functions secondary and leading to less pronounced feminine features.

Dr Samarth Arya, consultant in orthopaedics and robotic joint replacement surgery at Manipal Hospital, Old Airport Road, explains the physiological differences that impact performance in sports. "Women's performance is on average 90 per cent of men's in some disciplines. This is because of differences in heart rate, muscle mass, blood pressure, lung capacity, and hormones."

As actor Taapsee Pannu, currently in Paris for the ongoing Summer Olympics, dazzles the internet with her fashionable saree game, Bengalureans share their favourite ways to style the versatile garment

Six Yards of Fun

MONIKA MONALISA

ACTOR Taapsee Pannu was in Paris to cheer her husband Mathias Boe, coach of badminton player Chirag Shetty and has caught the attention of many with her unconventional choice of wearing a saree to all the events. She turned cheerleader for her husband, holding a placard and taking a stroll in the city – all this is our very own Indian ethnic attire.

This has resonated with many saree lovers, who believe in sporting the saree on any given occasion. Shruti Gombi, a lecturer by profession, is quite comfortable wearing a saree for casual events. A reluctant Gombi took it up only to find it as comfortable as Western wear. "People think that the saree needs to be tamed, but you carry it any way you want. The trick lies in the kind of textile you choose," says the 36-year-old.

Who would have known you could wear it for a fun evening out with friends? Anindita Shaw, a social media head, does just that. "I wear sarees to bars or even for a night out. I usually style it with a crop top as a blouse. I wear more handlooms, sometimes experimenting with a taxi print saree and a crop top. I wear ear cuffs which give a modern look to it. I complete the look with a messy bun and I'm good to go with a regular tote bag," says Shaw.

The fun aspect about adding a saree to everyday wear are the diverse styling options. Emcee Monita Bala, prefers teaming up sarees with long-sleeved blouses. "Sarees can be very comfortable and need not have to be restricted to a traditional look. I have a huge collection of sneakers and wear them with sarees most times," says Bala, who also adds funk by teaming it with a belt, jacket or blazer.

1. Vidhana Soudha stands top in the list of modern architectural masterpieces of Bengaluru. Conceived as a 'Temple of Democracy', Rashtrakavi Kuvempu described this magnificent structure as 'Poetry in Stone'. Vidhana Soudha, the largest Legislative building in India was built between 1951 and 1956 with a mix of Neo-Dravidian and Indo-Saracenic style of architecture. Who was the brain behind this architectural marvel?

2. An iconic heritage building called 'Bowring's Attara Kacheri' housed the administrative offices before shifting them to Vidhana Soudha. 'Attara Kacheri' means 'Eighteen Offices'. It was Chikkadevaraja Wodeyar in 1701, who initiated the idea of creating 18 departments for the state governance inspired by Aurangzeb's style of administration. What is housed in this building today? Government Museum or the High Court of Karnataka?

3. Prior to the Attara Kacheri, the State's administrative offices were housed at an iconic heritage building in Kalasipalayam area. A Persian inscription on a stone plaque meaning 'Abode of Happiness, Envy of Heaven' is at the entrance wall of this historic monument built by two illustrious rulers of Mysore during the latter part of the 18th century. A portion of the heritage monument that exists today – salvaged and restored to its former glory – is maintained by the Archeological Survey of India and is one of the major tourist attractions in Bengaluru. Name the monument.

ASK AN XPERT

Tarini Uppal

A publishing consultant and freelance editor who helped create bestselling and award-winning books during her time as a senior commissioning editor at Penguin Random House.

How to be a commissioning editor?

What does it take to be a good editor? Other than an undying love for books and a passion for the written word, I hope these points help you find the inner editor in you.

Be a reader: Whether you want to be a writer or an editor, you need to love reading. The more you read, the more ideas and points of reference you will have. Read, read, and then read some more!

Be open to every genre: When you're reading, don't just stick to what you know and love. Read everything, and be open to trying new genres. As an editor, it isn't about what you like anymore.

See the big picture: When you're reading a book, you need to zoom out and start viewing it as a structure. If one brick is out of place, the whole structure can collapse.

The devil is in the details: While you might be working on the big picture, don't lose sight of the finer details that ultimately make the book. Read every sentence twice, and then ask if it serves any purpose.

A people's person: When an author gives you a book to edit, they need to be able to trust you. Editing isn't an activity done in isolation. You have to constantly be in touch with your authors. Be kind, thoughtful, and patient.

FITBIT

MANDUKASANA SIRSA FLOOR
(FROG POSE III HEAD FLOOR)

This is a beginner-level seated kneeling pose. It is a variation of the base pose, Mandukasana (Frog Pose III). This is a pranayama, or restorative, practice. It improves the functioning of the digestive system by stimulating the digestive organs and also addresses issues like gas, indigestion, acidity, boating, slow digestion, and stomach aches. It stretches and mildly lengthens the spine and tones the abdominal muscles. This practice is beneficial to diabetes patients as it helps maintain insulin levels.

STEPS
- Start in Dandasana with your legs stretched out, taking three to four deep breaths.
- Fold your legs one after the other and get into Vajrasana. Ensure that your spine is erect and lengthened.
- Align your buttocks on your heels.
- Make a firm fist of both hands, keeping the thumbs inside the palms. Place the fists on the lower abdomen, on the sides of the navel.
- Inhale deeply and expand the chest, keeping the spine erect and the fists placed on the lower belly.
- Inhale deeply and expand your chest. Keep your spine erect and your fists placed on the lower belly.
- Exhale, contract your stomach, and slowly bend forward.
- Keep bending until your head touches the floor or mat.
- If your head does not touch down, then you may practice Mandukasana.
- Once in the pose, hold your breath for twenty to thirty seconds, or as per your comfort or capacity.
- Inhale and repeat the practice. Hold your breath here for a little longer this time. Inhale and come back.
- Release your legs from Vajrasana one after the other and relax in Dandasana Hands Back.

BENEFITS
- Stretches the muscles of the legs, knees, and ankles.
- Gently reduces the stiffness in the lower body.
- Increases the flexibility of the lower body, especially the lower limbs.
- Helps alleviate knee and ankle pain.
- Reduces stubborn fat around the belly and waist.
- Helps increase the heart rate and enhances heart functioning.
- Helps correct the alignment of ankles, toes, knees, arms, and fists.
- Hold your breath as per your comfort level and gradually increase the period.
- Increases the flow of prana in the body.
- Lengthens the spine and reduces stiffness around the lower back.
- Increases blood circulation to the heart and brain.
- Helps address issues like fatigue, lethargy, and tiredness.
- Balances the mind, thoughts, and emotions.
- Students with asthma can practice this, but avoid holding for a longer period.

LIMITATIONS
- Students with injuries or have undergone recent surgeries in their knees, ankles, hips, spine, abdomen, or neck, or have peptic ulcers, abdominal hernias, acute back pain, HBP, heart-related issues, acute headaches or migraines, or epilepsy, should avoid this practice.
- Seniors with weak joints or issues like arthritis and osteoporosis, and women during their menstruation, should avoid this pose.
- This pose should not be included in prenatal yoga.

NOTES FROM COLLEGE

Confessional poet and writer Megha Rao speaks about her recently-released book Our Bones in Your Throat, using elements of magical realism, drawing from her personal experiences, and more

POOJA DAS

MYSTERY, magic, friendship, secrets and even an intriguing water spirit. One could say writer-poet Megha Rao's recently-released book Our Bones in Your Throat has everything one needs in a coming-of-age novel set in the hallowed halls of a college campus. "The book has elements of magical realism, and it revolves around two young women who become friends in an unconventional way in college. They realise there's so much politics and it's hard for them to tackle that, so they team up. But in the midst of all this, there is also a water spirit and a rumour leads them to a forbidden part of the campus where they start realising things are not what they seem," shares Rao, who hails from Kerala.

The book centres around the friendship between Esai and Scheherazade, who are obsessed to find the truth behind the drowned woman haunting St Margaret's. "The whole premise revolves around how much of a rumour is real," Rao explains, hinting at the book's deeper exploration of myths and history. One such historical reference is to Katharina Kepler, the mother of the renowned astronomer Johannes Kepler, who was accused of witchcraft, mirroring the societal tendency to vilify those who defy norms.

Our Bones in Your Throat is not just a work of fiction; it's a reflection of Rao's own experiences and observations. The book delves into complex themes like childhood trauma, gender, and the politics of art. "None of the women in this book is perfect – they're deeply flawed. It's important for women to tap into their shadow selves, which these characters do," she notes, challenging the often one-dimensional portrayal of women in literature.

The book also tackles the darker sides of college life, from bullying to the destructive power of rumours. Rao candidly shares that some of the book's most intense moments are drawn from her own life. "I don't think I could ever write completely detached from my own experiences. For example, in the book, a boy threatens the female protagonist with an acid attack – something that actually happened to me in college. Many of the experiences in the book are personal," she shares.

The poet is coming to the city as part of her tour not just to release her book but also perform an exclusive poetry set. "One of the characters in the book is a spoken word poet," she shares. "I'm going to be performing some of the poems that she performs in the book. Not all the poems are in the book because it's a novel and you can't really cram too much into it. Most of the content in the performance set won't be in the book. These are the poems that, if I could have written them into the book, I would have."

For Rao, the transition from writing to performing wasn't straightforward. "As a literature student, the poetry I was initially exposed to was by old white men like Shakespeare. I couldn't relate to them. Then I came across Sylvia Plath in second year of college while going through a lot personally. I got obsessed with poetry because so much of it came from the heart. It was real, honest, raw, and above all, vulnerable, which was important to me," she recalls.

(The poetry session will be held on August 11, 4pm at the Just BLR, Brigade Road)

(Writer, comedian)

IT was a random weekday in the mid-'90s, when our English teacher told us of what the future would look like. 'You will be able to see the person you're speaking to, on your watch! No phone, no TV, nothing!'. That image left a lasting impression in my imagination. I would often dream of this futuristic future. I belong to a generation of people who has a watch around their wrist at all times. I grew up at a time when all watches of the world did the same thing – show the time. A time when you needed a clock hung on a wall to prevent your entire life going haywire.

Watches were aspirational because our elders wore them. Watches with names like 'Akshay' and 'Vikas'. Every lane had a watch shop where miniature screws were inserted into delicate timepieces. Everybody wore watches. Heroes wore watches as they smashed villains to dust. Cricketers like Anil Kumble and Venkatesh Prasad bowled with watches. The cool senior in every school had a swanky G-Shock strapped to his wrist. Even in semi-socialist times, the Capitalist in me got hooked on watches. While the elders looked for 'decency' in a watch, I looked for cutting-edge innovation.

'Talking watches' would read out the time on the press of a button. The dream-like 'Train watch' had a tiny train chugging in the dial. Like their real-life counterparts, these trains would often break down! Waterproof watches seemed like a sci-fi fantasy. But since the biggest problem in my life was mathematics, I feverishly fantasised about the 'calculator watch'. A watch with buttons so miniscule, it felt more relaxing to just learn about LCM and HCF. I bought my first watch in my early 20s and have always worn one since. Even at that age, I had perceptions of maturity and immaturity – so I chose an analog watch. Over the years, I have left some watches in bars. I have cracked the dial of others. Some watches have been forgotten in cricket grounds, and others have simply gathered dust in drawers. But I have ensured that there is a watch on my wrist at all times.

Watches faced their toughest competition when smartphones became popular. My friends would often ask me, bewildered, "Why can't you just look at your phone to know the time?" They were right, of course. But it felt weird to tell them that my hand felt naked without a watch. And so I persisted on with different watches, cruising through the first wave of health bands and smartwatches. For a brief period, I cheated with health bands. One of them only blinked if I completed my steps. Another beeped if I stayed in one position for an hour – making it hard to watch movies in a theatre. Health watches that were supposed to show me every health-related insight, but only gave me anxiety every time I looked at the battery levels. Smartwatches today are capable of doing everything. They can count the steps as you go on a hike, map your stress levels when you see a bear, count your heartbeat as you panic, and measure your steps as you flee from the scene.

Buddha said that desires are the cause of all suffering. So I have finally settled on a dumb smartwatch. It gives me the bare necessities – steps, alarm, and a tiny light for when I bang into the fridge at night. We are not far from the day that my English teacher prophesied about. But even on that day, I'll have a timepiece strapped to my wrist. It's a relic that tells of earlier times while showing the time.

YASH'S HIGHLY ANTICIPATED TOXIC TO GO ON FLOORS ON AUG 8

Yash, Radhika Pandit visit Dharmasthala with producer Venkat Narayan and family

Reportedly, actors Nayanthara, Huma Qureshi, Kiara Advani, and Shine Tom Chacko, will set up a temporary camp in Bengaluru for the film's major schedule starting this week

A SHARADHAA

EARLIER, we reported that the shooting for Yash's much-anticipated Toxic is expected to begin in mid-August. It has now been confirmed that the film is all set to go on floors on August 8.

According to recent reports, Yash and his crew, who have carefully crafted the storyboard and incorporated advanced Stuntvis technology, are ready to bring their vision to life. The film will primarily be shot in Bengaluru, where large sets have been constructed, while some important scenes are also planned to be filmed in Mumbai.

On Tuesday, Yash, along with his wife Radhika Pandit and family, visited the Manjunatheshwara Swamy Temple in Dharmasthala to seek blessings for the upcoming project. They were joined by producer Venkat Narayan Konanki.

Directed by Geetu Mohandas, Toxic features Yash in the lead role and boasts a stellar cast, including Nayanthara, Huma Qureshi, Kiara Advani, and Malayalam actor Shine Tom Chacko. Reports suggest that Nawazuddin Siddiqui might also join the cast. However, an official confirmation about the same is yet to be made. Meanwhile, speculations are rife that these actors are expected to arrive in Bengaluru soon and set up a temporary camp there for the film's major schedule, starting this week.

Produced by KVN Productions and Yash's Monster Mind Creations, Toxic was initially slated for a theatrical release on April 10, 2025. However, with Prabhas' The Raja Saab also slated for release on the same date, a box office clash is imminent. Considering the film's extensive planning, star-studded cast, and complex production schedule, a postponement of Toxic's release date is a likely possibility.

The film's cinematography will be handled by Rajeev Ravi. We await further updates on the shooting progress, the cast, and any changes to the release date from Yash and the production team.

Indrajit Lankesh and Sudeep

The star launched the film trailer, spoke warmly about his longtime friend Indrajit, and noted the importance of storytelling in modern cinema

Gowri has personal significance for Indrajit Lankesh as it marks his son Samarjit's debut: SUDEEP

CE FEATURES

ALL the spotlight is on Samarjit Lankesh, set to make his debut in his father Indrajit Lankesh's upcoming film Gowri, which also marks the debut of Sanya Iyer. The trailer, unveiled by their friend and star Kichcha Sudeep at a grand event on Monday, has heightened anticipation ahead of the film's release on August 15. Inspired by true events, Gowri promises to be a multifaceted entertainer that blends family dynamics, action, and romance. Samarjit portrays a farmer's son with musical ambitions in the film, which is set to show his talent in action, dance, and dialogue, and it hints at underlying class conflicts.

Gowri brings together an ensemble cast including Priyanka Upendra, Akul Balaji, Malathi Sudhir, Sihi Kahi Chandru, Mukhyamantri Chandru, Sampath Maitreya, Chandu Gowda, and Sweezal. The film has music composed by Chandan Shetty and Jassie Gift as well as cinematography by AJ Shetty and Krishnakumar.

Discussing the trailer, Sudeep noted the lines and dialogue delivered by Samarjit, describing them as a thoughtful commentary on changes across generations. He also mentioned the film's significance, noting that Gowri holds personal meaning for Indrajit as it marks his son's debut. The Max hero also reflected on his longstanding friendship with Indrajit Lankesh and recalled their days playing badminton together. "Back then, I didn't realise Indrajit was the son of Lankesh, the well-known Kannada writer and filmmaker. But even then, his competitive spirit shone through," said Sudeep. He recognised that, in today's Kannada cinema scene, the story's quality is crucial, with other aspects taking a back seat. "The big questions are whether the story grips audiences and whether Samarjit can deliver a compelling performance," he added.

Regarding comparisons of Samarjit to Bollywood star Hrithik Roshan, Sudeep humorously commented, "Someone dubbed Samarjit Lankesh the Hrithik Roshan of our industry, making Indrajit Lankesh the Rakesh Roshan. I have no doubt Samarjit will succeed. But I'm curious to see whether Indrajit will create a film like Koi Mil Gaya," chuckled Sudeep.

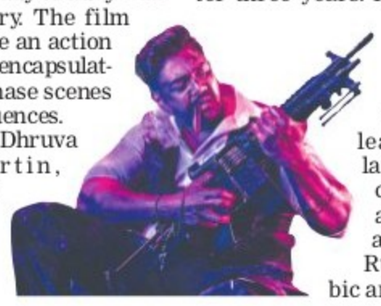
Dhruva Sarja goes all guns blazing in an action-heavy film

CE FEATURES

THE trailer of Dhruva Sarja's upcoming film Martin, which is directed by AP Arjun and set for a worldwide release on October 11, was released on Monday. In the two-minute-long trailer, Dhruva Sarja's character is in a Pakistan jail which irks jailers and convicts in the country. The actor, who can be seen in an action-heavy avatar in the film, is sporting an 'Indian' tattoo on his biceps. He targets and shoots his enemies as they are ready to bury him in the country. The film promises to be an action extravaganza encapsulating several chase scenes and fight sequences.

Apart from Dhruva Sarja, Martin, which has story and screenplay by Arjun Sarja, also stars Vaibhavi Shandilya and Anveshi Jain in key roles. Georgia Andriani, Chikkanna, Malavika Avinash, Achyuth Kumar, Nikitin Dheer, Nawab Shah, Rohit Pathak, Nathan Jones and Rubiel Mosquera round up the supporting cast. Martin, which went on floors in 2021, is produced by Uday K Mehta and Suraj Uday Mehta. Mani Sharma has composed the music for the film while Ravi Basrur of KGF-fame has created the background score. With Martin, Dhruva Sarja is returning to the big screen after three years. He was last seen in Pogaru in 2021.



The film will be released in 13 languages including Japanese, Korean, Chinese, Russian, Arabic and Spanish.

Afzal ropes in Kushi Kothari and Navya Poojari for new film Hosathara

Navya Poojari

CE FEATURES

JOURNALIST-turned-actor Afzal is set to take on a new avatar as a director with Hosathara, currently under production. The director doubles up as an actor for the film, which also has a story and screenplay penned by him. The talkie portions of the film have already been wrapped up, and it will soon resume its schedule for action sequences and songs.

Meanwhile, the actor-director has revealed that Kushi Kothari and Navya Poojari have been cast as the female leads for the film. Kushi, known for her roles in Nanna Marichikka and Vidhi, and a supporting role in Chef Chidambara, marks her third venture with Hosathara. Also part of Hosathara is Navya Poojari, the star of the SriiMurali film Bagheera.

Produced under the banner of Jai Vijay Productions, Hosathara is billed as a film with a blend of love, suspense, thriller, and comedy elements. Raju Emmiganuru is handling the compositions, while Anthony Piano works on the background score. The action sequences by Ultimate Shivu have cinematography by Rajeev Ganeshan. JHJ Studios (America) is taking care of the film's visual effects.

Love interrupted

CINEMA WITHOUT BORDERS

In this weekly column, the writer introduces you to powerful cinema from across the world

Film: Caught by the Tides

NAMRATA JOSHI

THERE can be something incredibly poignant but affirmative about tales of love interrupted or thwarted in an instant yet enduring the forward march of time.

Caught by the Tides, the latest work by China's leading filmmaker, Jia Zhangke, is about a similar fragile bond, shared by Qiao qiao with Bin, that spans from the early 2000s to the present day. But the exploration of the ebb and flow of Bin's individual life encompasses something larger here. It becomes a way to portray the far-reaching and often turbulent socio-economic transformation in contemporary China. It's also a love letter to filmmaking and to Zhangke's own wife, muse and the perennial presence in his films, Zhao Tao. She plays the pivotal role of Qiao qiao and embodies the strength and spirit of the film.

The sprawling epic narrative begins in working-class Datong City in North China in 2000, the first spring of the new century. Singer and model Qiao qiao is in love with her boss Bin. As though on cue, there's much singing and dancing surrounding them. The turning point comes when Bin decides to try his luck in a bigger place with brighter prospects. He leaves without notice but just a note that he will have her over once he has made enough money. Qiao qiao follows in his search. Her journey to find Bin becomes a discovery of China, in a manner of speaking, even as she herself becomes a Mother China kind of figure.

The journey also becomes a mode with which Zhangke revisits his own filmography. He mines the footage from the past, some of it shot casually not necessarily for a film, blends it with the fresh shots in a manner that makes the passage of 21 years feel real and tangible. In that sense, the film is true to its time frame, having literally been filmed in the 20 years it is set in. A reason why the actors also appear to have aged naturally, from the early scenes to the last.

There's a singular mix of fact and fiction even as Zhangke's verite style alternates with a more elaborate and embellished narrative, particularly the use of song-n-dance and the nods to operas, fashion shows in the malls and parades on the streets. They all become the new, emerging edifices of lives in mutation. As progress and development drive China, ugly structures take over the verdant hills. Meanwhile, the love of Qiao qiao for Ben finds itself at a crossroads, challenged by his materialism and increasing association with the corrupt and the questionable. When she reunites with him after a while, there's no way out for her but to break up with him. They meet again during COVID-19 pandemic. An infirm, brittle, ageing love in times of uncertainties.

As past, present and future collide, much of Caught by the Tides might seem like what we have already seen in Zhangke's enviable body of work. Yet it has a freshness and power that is uniquely its own. Call it a chronicle or critique, even when it comes to cynicism and despair for the future Zhangke can't help not articulating it with profundity and lyricism. And then it's for Zhao Tao to be the essence of his views, her chiselled face and fluid expressions saying more than the words or the images. It's hard to shake off her rueful smile or the faraway look. They linger on, quite like the lost, adrift love on the screen.
